CAMP MEN TRAVEL WEST FROM REGINA

Two Special Trains Carry Strikers Back to Homes Or Camps in B.C., Alberta and Saskatchewan; Plentiful Supply of Food For Travelers

Men Do Their Own Policing on Trains

By SAM G. ROSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Regina, July 5.—Singing and cheering, light-hearted relief camp strikers clambered aboard two westbound special trains to-day and started back to their homes or the relief camps they left a month ago on their disrupted trek to Ottawa.

Marching out of the Exhibition Grounds, where they had been quartered since June 14, the two brigades boarded the trains while about 1,000 men, women and children watched.

The Canadian National Railway special train traveling north to Saskatoon and then on to Vancouver via Edmonton, left at 11:45 a.m., and the Canadian Pacific train pulled out at 11:55 a.m. for Moose Jaw, Swift Current, Calgary, Kamloops and Vancouver.

Approximately 1,100 strikers were aboard the two trains, equally divided. Before to-night the approximate 400 still remaining will leave on regular trains for points in Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

NO POLICE SEEN

The two trains pulled up within two city blocks of the stadium so the men could board them without a long trek downtown. No police were in sight and no police were on the trains. A brief meeting at the gateway to the grounds was held when farewell speeches were given.

Hon. T. C. Davis, Saskatchewan Attorney-General, supervised the departure along with representatives of both railways.

There were plenty of provisions aboard the train for the men, scheduled to leave at various points between Regina and Vancouver.

Clash at Pier; Man Arrested

Vancouver, July 5.—One arrest was made to-day in connection with Vancouver's waterfront troubles. Charles Leighton, forty-nine, is charged with assaulting a dock worker.

Police were rushed to the approach to the Ballantyne Pier, where a large crowd of longshore strike sympathizers were stopping taxicabs carrying workers to the pier. Some cab windows were broken, but the crowd dispersed when police arrived. Leighton was arrested later.

FIRE MENACES MANY AIRPLANES

Associated Press
London, July 5.—The Royal Air Force to-day rushed all available men from the Mildenhall airbase to stop a grass fire which it was feared for a time was spreading toward the big airfield. About $5,000,000 worth of airplanes were drawn up in preparation for the forthcoming royal review.

KAMLOOPS NEW CAMP CENTRE

B.C. Government Plans to Distribute Returning Relief Strikers From There

The provincial government has arranged to take care of relief camp strikers, now returning to British Columbia from Regina, at Kamloops. It was announced by Hon. John Hart, Acting Premier, after an emergency meeting of the provincial cabinet this morning.

The government was advised that 450 men on a C.P.R. train and 650 men on a C.N.R. train were leaving Saskatchewan to-day and would be in Kamloops some time to-morrow afternoon.

After the cabinet meeting, Mr. Hart said:

"We have been in touch with the Dominion and Saskatchewan governments in connection with this matter. We have decided to establish a distribution centre at Kamloops from which the men will be sent to their various camps as rapidly as possible. In the meantime the government will take care of them."

TO B.C. COAST

The men, it is reported, were given passes on the train out to Vancouver by the Saskatchewan government. Vancouver authorities have protested against all the trekkers being sent back to that city, on the ground that they do not belong there.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING

Associated Press
San Francisco, July 5.—Building doubled the speed of a year ago in the ten largest United States cities of the Pacific Coast in the first half of 1935.

Permits taken out amounted to $36,393,000 in round figures, compared with $17,915,000 in the 1934 period. The gain was about 100 per cent.

RAIN AND OIL DIRTY STREETS

Sticky Surface Left As Showers Spoil Work of Improving Block Pavements

The laments of United States visitors who came to Victoria for the "Glorious Fourth" yesterday and went back with white shoes oil splattered and summer clothes rain drenched, were joined to-day by those of Victoria store and hotel owners, car drivers and many others who surveyed the mess street oil had made of their floors, automobiles and other property.

In common with the practice of former years, the city this year again oiled streets paved with wooden blocks which were becoming loose through the continued heat. Ordinarily the work is done with the minimum of inconvenience, the blocks absorbing the oil shortly after it is applied.

This year, however, rain fell just after oiling operations got underway and the swelling blocks turned the surface applied by workmen, leaving it in sand-mixed patches in the various places treated. Visitors and Victorians alike had footwear and car tires coated with the sticky oil as they used the streets. Many packed it into shoes and coats, where it found more elegant resting place on rugs and carpets of considerable value.

CAUSED BY RAIN

Officials of the city to-day blamed the mess entirely on the rain. The blocks were so loose they had to be oiled to be kept in place, the superintendent in charge of the work stated. Shortly after the flood was applied the rain fell. Sand was scattered liberally over the oily patches, but the rain washed it away, leaving the sticky oil. For the last two days six men, working with two trucks, have been kept busy distributing the sand. Within a week the nuisance caused by the rains would be overcome, it was stated.

Gasoline and other cleaning fluids have been used successfully in several instances to clean the dirt from materials which have picked it up.

SURVEY WORK ON ISLAND

Forbidden Plateau, Campbell River and Quatsino Areas to Be Covered

Considerable survey work on the island will be done by the survey branch of the Department of Lands this year, Hon. A. Wells Gray, the minister, said this morning when he released details of the department's programme.

N. C. Stewart, of the permanent survey staff is working in the area north and west of Courtenay, covering the Forbidden Plateau, Butte Lake and the easterly part of Strathcona Park. This work is designed to aid in any future scheme for the development of the tourist possibilities of these extremely attractive areas and to also aid the lumbering industry, by locating with mineral possibilities will also be covered.

On a subdivision near Campbell River, W. J. H. Holmes is at work, and L. A. Austen-Leigh has a party out in the Quatsino area, doing the ground work on a region covered by aerial photographs taken by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

MINING AREAS

Throughout its programme this year the branch is paying particular attention to areas offering mining promise.

RESULT OF BOYS' PRANK

Flames shot skyward from the wreckage of a locomotive and seventeen boxcars, creating the spectacular scene pictured above, after a Missouri-Pacific train had plunged into the ditch near Little Rock, Ark., derailed. Reeve A. D. Patterson of Delta, and Reeve Joe Brown of Surrey, were in conference with Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, discussing arrangements for loans.

They proposed, it was stated, to spend the money on permanent road work in those areas.

The amount which they will apply for was not made public.

Ethiopians Hope Kellogg Pact Move Will Avert War

As Sponsor of War Renunciation Treaty United States Is Asked to Induce Italy to Cease Preparations For Hostilities

Associated Press
Addis Ababa, July 5.—Ethiopia's hope of keeping peace with Italy was directed largely to the United States to-day.

The African empire, in a note delivered to William Perry George, United States Charge d'Affaires here, asked the republic to invoke the Kellogg-Briand pact, under which Italy renounced as an instrument of national policy.

The five-page communication, citing the massing of men and munitions in African colonies as evidence that Italy had warlike intentions, urged the United States seek to make Italy adhere to the pact.

BY LEGAL MEANS
The note reiterated the determination of Emperor Haile Selassie, "King of Kings and Conquering Lion of

Bennett Says Voting Not to Be Delayed

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 5.—"As soon as necessary arrangements can be made for a general election it will be held," Prime Minister R. B. Bennett announced in the House of Commons shortly before prorogation to-day.

He said it would not be delayed beyond the time necessary to comply with the statutes and get the necessary machinery in operation.

Liberal Leader Mackenzie King had asked Mr. Bennett to indicate the "probable date" of the election. He said it would remove uncertainty and would not affect the result either way.

Mr. Bennett said he was unable to indicate an approximate date.

In informal discussions about the Parliament Buildings following a Conservative caucus this forenoon the majority of predictions put the election on some date in the second half of September.

Chain Letters Are Outlawed

Ottawa, July 5.—The House of Commons to-day accepted a Senate amendment to the Criminal Code aimed at "rackets" arising from chain letter systems.

B.C. LAWYERS TO CONVENE

They Will Seek to Break "Autocratic Powers" of Compensation Board

Two hundred lawyers from all parts of British Columbia will move at the Bar of British Columbia convention here next Monday to remove what they refer to as the "autocratic powers" of the Workmen's Compensation Board so that workers who have had their claims rejected by the board will have a right of appeal, instead of being forced, as now, to accept the board's ruling.

"We are out to reform such proceedings," said Frank Higgins, K.C., president of the Victoria Bar Association, host to the convention. "Hundreds of men and women who now are helpless when the board rejects their claims for compensation following injuries at their work will not be denied the citizen's rights to justice."

Action on this matter at the convention will follow on the resolution passed at the last convention calling for an investigation of operations under the Workmen's Compensation Act with a view to checking the increase charges on the various industries of the province as well as providing for appeals from the decision of the board as against workers.

LIBERALS WILL SAFEGUARD C.N.R.

Ottawa, July 5.—The attitude of the Liberal Party toward the Canadian National Railways remains the same as laid down by its leader, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in a House of Commons address February 27, 1932.

This was the only comment from Mr. King when shown the cable from London in which The Evening News yesterday quoted Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as saying amalgamation of the C.P.R. and the C.N.R. must come within the life of the next Parliament, whether it be Liberal or Conservative.

On that occasion Mr. King said of the National Railways system: "The Liberal party stands for maintenance of the integrity of the Canadian National Railways as a publicly-owned and publicly-controlled service."

Bennett Plans To Campaign

Tells Conservative M.P.'s He Will Lead Party in Election

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 5.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett to-day renewed his promise to his followers in the House of Commons that he would remain as their leader so long as his health permitted.

The announcement was received with cheers which could be heard outside the chamber in which the caucus was held this afternoon.

When he left the caucus chamber, Mr. Bennett told reporters he proposed to lead the party through the campaign if his health was maintained, and he had so informed his followers.

Following the general caucus, western members remained for a private session, but the nature of their deliberations was not divulged.

WILL TAKE REST

It was understood Mr. Bennett would take a long rest as soon as he can get away, with Rt. Hon. Sir George Perley taking over as Acting Prime Minister in his absence. With the general election not expected until September, and probably late in that month, there would be ample opportunity for the Prime Minister to take two or three weeks' rest.

LEGISLATORS IN LUNCH SCENES

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 5.—While differences over amendments in Dominion Trade and Industry Bill held up prorogation for a time this afternoon, members slipped out to grab lunches.

The stately restaurant of Parliament looked out as against the more democratic cafeteria. In the latter was noticed Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government leader in the Senate, eating a sandwich while dictating to his secretary the Senate's reasons for insisting on the amendments.

THANKS VOICED BY GOVERNOR

Earl of Bessborough, Soon to Leave Canada, Replies to Parliament's Address

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 5.—Thanks of the Governor-General for the joint address which the House of Commons and Senate passed in appreciation of his services to Canada were voiced by his excellency here to-day.

Speaking in the Senate chamber at the conclusion of ceremonies proroguing parliament, the Governor-General voiced "deep regret that my term of office as the King's representative in this country should be drawing to a close."

Lord Bessborough said: "I wish to thank you very sincerely, honorable members of the Senate and members of the House of Commons in Parliament assembled, for the terms of your address."

"When one has made his home in any country for nearly five years, it is no easy matter to leave it, more particularly after experiencing such

Legislation Reviewed In Closing Speech

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 5.—Prorogation of Parliament was reached at 3 o'clock P.M. this afternoon (noon Victoria time), when the Governor-General, the Earl of Bessborough, gave royal assent to the remaining bills and read the closing speech from the Throne.

Only a handful of spectators were present in the sunlit Senate chamber when the few Commons members who had remained for the final ceremonies trooped down the corridor to hear the words that would end the sixth and last session of Canada's Seventeenth Parliament since Confederation.

CEREMONY DELAYED
Prorogation to-day was later than originally expected.

A company of the Governor-General's footguards, in their red tunics and high fur busbies had stood about Parliament Hill in the sweltering temperature of the hottest day of the season, since 1 p.m., the hour originally set for prorogation. The Governor-General was kept waiting nearly half an hour while the Senate wrestled with final amendments to the Dominion Trade and Industry Commission Act—amendments which were accepted by the House of Commons without debate.

TEXT OF SPEECH

Ottawa, July 5.—The Speech from the Throne proroguing Parliament was read by the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General, this afternoon, as follows:

"Honorable members of the Senate:
"Members of the House of Commons:
"In bringing to a close the last session of the seventeenth Parliament of Canada I congratulate you on the extent and importance of your legislative enactments."

"My ministers have for some time been convinced reforms and adjustments in the existing economic system."

Ottawa, July 5.—After studying in detail application and operation of the Borstal system in six English prisons, Brig-General D. M. Ormond, superintendent of Canadian penitentiaries, has reported to the Dominion government his opinion that similar training and treatment of youthful offenders can and ought to be put into effect in Canada.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, tabled Supt. Ormond's report in the House of Commons to-day, and declared the system would be made effective in Canada within sixty days. No legislation and no extra money vote would be necessary, but there would be some staff additions and extra buildings needed.

The Borstal system, forecast for Canada in the speech from the Throne at Parliament's opening January 17, is "a combination of mental, moral, physical and industrial training of a strenuous kind" for convicts under the age of twenty-one years.

Selected penitentiary inmates under the age of twenty-one would be housed separately and made the subject of this training with a view to correcting criminal instincts and preparing the youth for more useful effort on discharge, it was stated.

WHEAT BOARD BILL PASSED

Senate Action Completes Measure Short Time Before Prorogation

Ottawa, July 5.—Final reading was given in the Senate to-day, a short time before prorogation, to the Canadian Wheat Board Bill as amended by the banking and commerce committee of the Upper House.

Two in number, one change stipulated an investigation of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange only could be made with the approval of the Governor-in-Council. The second amendment deleted the words "as speedily" in regard to liquidation of present wheat holdings of John I. McFarland from a last-minute provision made in the Commons.

With little discussion, the measure approving and ratifying the Canada-Poland trade convention was put through all three reading stages.

FUNDS VOTED

A supply bill likewise was expedited and given the three necessary readings.

The legislation amending the Dominion Elections Act was passed as approved earlier in the day by the Commons.

TRADE BOARD

Motion was adopted to send a message to the Commons insisting on the amendment "in the Senate" to the Dominion Trade and Industry Commission bill by striking out the provision the commission might investigate the capital structure of any company.

Several adjournments were made by the Senate in the rush towards prorogation. The adjournment enabled the banking and commerce committee more closely to study the Canadian wheat board bill and for an interchange of messages between the two houses on amendments to legislation.

The third adjournment was made at 2:30 o'clock.

In a message, the Commons informed the Upper House it accepted the amendment to the eight-hour-day bill which would bring employees in the Canadian railway running trades under the new legislation six months after the bill received royal assent, or approximately next December 31.

PASSED BY COMMONS

Ottawa, July 5.—Canada's new wheat marketing plan was forwarded to the Senate for final action to-day when the approval of all parties in the House of Commons was given late yesterday.

The wheat board bill as passed by the Commons provides for payment of a fixed minimum price for the western farmers' chief product and for no interference with the existing grain trade except in case of its failure to function in the interests of the country.

NO "FIRE SALE"

Passage of the measure meant no change in the wheat policy hitherto pursued by the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers under the direction of John I. McFarland, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett assured the House. The wheat board would be under control of the government, the Premier declared, the government would not permit a "fire sale" of the 228,000,000 bushels now held by the McFarland organization, which will be taken over by the board. U.S. HOLIDAY DEATHS 201

Thousands of Persons Injured While July 4 Being Celebrated

Associated Press New York, July 5.—At least 201 deaths and thousands of injuries flood to-day as the price paid by the United States for the celebration of its 150th birthday.

The Independence Day casualty list, while the largest since 1932, was well under the average for the previous seven years. From 1928 to 1934 the July Fourth accidental death toll was 1,630, an average of approximately 233 deaths for each year.

Yesterday's death list compared with the 177 recorded last year, the fewest since 1929, and 483 killed on July 4 in 1931 the costliest in recent years.

The Midwest, with eighty-two deaths, led yesterday's mortality roll. Only ten deaths were reported in the mountain states; New England had ten also; the midatlantic group had twenty-nine; the south twenty-eight; the southwest twenty-eight, and the Pacific Coast fourteen.

Only three deaths were directly attributed to fireworks, an Associated Press survey showed. The majority of deaths were due to automobile accidents and drownings. Autos killed eighty-three and seventy-nine were drowned.

Sprinkled through reports were accounts of deaths from airplanes, train wrecks, death by electric shock, shootings, falls and the heat. Deaths from such causes totaled thirty-four.

FELL TO DEATH

Among the spectacular accidents which marred the day's entertainment was one at St. Clair Shores, Mich., in which a man was carried 2,000 feet into the air as he held to the guide rope of a balloon and then dropped to his death.

At Ho-Ho-Kus, N.J., a boy, watching an automobile race, was killed when one of the racing cars threw a wheel, four automobile riders were killed in a head-on collision.

Six deaths resulted from celebratory use of firearms and two more were shot to death while hunting.

THANKS VOICED BY GOVERNOR

constant proofs of friendship and goodwill as I had met with on all visits.

VISITED ALL PARTS

"Believing as I do that one of the chief functions of a Governor-General is to maintain personal contact between the King and his subjects, I have endeavored throughout my tenure of office to travel widely over this great country.

"In this way I have learned much—and have been deeply interested in the learning—of the human background of the Canadian nation.

"I have sought, as we all do, to look forward along the road that Canada now travel in the future. That road will be best with further difficulties and further hardships. What nation to-day would be bold enough to say that its future was free from them?

WILL OVERCOME OBSTACLES

"But, though the road be rough, and though it wind uphill, a nation true to itself does not fear it, and Canada, with her line still unbroken, as your address rightly says, with her head still high, will surely tread that road with resolution which overcomes all obstacles.

"I appreciate deeply your kind personal allusions to Lady Beasor, strike a personal note, let me assure you that our recollections of these years will not be only of the hard-fought economic struggle that characterized them in history. We have been happy in Canada, both ourselves and our children.

WILL INFORM KING

"When I reach England, it will give me great pleasure once more to assure the King of the unwavering loyalty to his throne and person which, as I know from my own experience, is so abundantly evident in all parts of Canada, especially in this memorable year of His Majesty's silver jubilee.

"Once more, honorable members of the Senate and members of the House of Commons, I thank you most heartily, and I pray that you, and those who come after you, may ever be granted wisdom to direct aright the affairs of a country so rich in promise, and of a people so loyal and so courageous."

Legislation Reviewed In Closing Speech

tem have become necessary to insure its more effective and equitable operation. Throughout the world there is a new approach on the part of governments to financial and economic problems, and I confidently believe the Economic Council of Canada, for which you have provided, will in future become an important factor in the government's service for the correlation of information and scientific investigation.

"By the Natural Products Marketing Act, enacted at the last session of Parliament, you provided for investigations into costs, price spreads, trade practices and other matters related to the production, marketing and processing of natural products.

NEW MEASURES

"During the present session you have amended that statute and the Combines Investigation Act, the Companies Act and the Criminal Code, and provided for establishment of a Deminion trade and industry commission. These measures will insure to investors security against fraud; to the producer and distributor, elimination of unfair practices; to the consumer, higher standards of products, and to the Dominion a condition of healthy competition in industry. The provision made for the appointment of a director of public prosecutions insure enforcement of these enactments.

WAGES AND HOURS

"By the legislation enacted respecting minimum wages, hours of work and weekly rest, the Parliament of Canada has made an important advance in the field of social legislation. These measures are of great importance because of their bearing upon economic conditions throughout the country and because they represent Canada's determination to maintain fair and humane conditions of labor for men, women and children in keeping with the national obligations under the treaties of peace and the conventions adopted by the general conference of the International Labor Organization of the League of Nations, to which Canada subscribed.

INTEREST RATES

"Through the action of my government, in co-operation with the financial institutions of the country, Canada enjoys the most favorable interest rates in its history. The provision, and the measure which you have enacted during the last session of Parliament respecting farmers' indebtedness, have improved their economic condition. The amendments made to these measures during the session will further extend their benefits. You have also made provision for assisting fishermen by establishing a system of long term mortgage credit.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

"Enactment of the measure relating to unemployment and social insurance will, through the establishment of a national labor exchange service, provide for dealing more effectively with the problem of seasonal and other unemployment, and will afford the means whereby Canadian workers can, with the assistance of the government, make provision for their own security.

Following a conference with the representatives of all the provinces, my ministers have decided to appoint a royal commission to conduct an investigation of our national health problems with a view to proposing a definite plan for the co-operation of federal and provincial authorities in a national health policy.

WORKS AND HOUSES

"The measures which you have taken to provide for public works and undertakings throughout Canada, to authorize the guarantee of certain railway equipment securities, and to assist in the construction of houses will, it is confidently believed, do much to stimulate industry in the building trades throughout the country and create employment.

GRAIN BOARD

"The action you have taken during the past few years to raise prices paid to wheat producers given effect to the royal commission on wheat and grain, and the policy adopted at the Empire Economic Conference held at Ottawa and the World Economic Conference held in London, by your action in providing for the Canadian wheat board, that policy will be continued.

"The provisions you have made for the revaluation of gold and an exchange stabilization fund constitute an important effort to restore normal exchange conditions throughout the world and make possible a greater volume of international trade.

"Important amendments have been made to the Income Tax Act, and provision has been made for the rehabilitation of drought and soil drifting areas in the prairie provinces. Other measures include the Relief Act and an act to amend and consolidate the acts relating to patents of invention.

TRADE AGREEMENTS

"During the session my government tabled the additional protocol to the trade agreement between Canada and France, which provides for the extension of further tariff concessions by each country to the products of the other. You have approved a convention of commerce between Canada and Poland, by means of which it is hoped to increase the trade between the two countries on mutually advantageous terms. A modus vivendi was also concluded with the Republic of Haiti, and the New Zealand trade agreement has been extended.

"Members of the House of Commons: I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service.

ROYAL JUBILEE

"Honorable members of the Senate: Members of the House of Commons: You have reason to rejoice in the proud position which Canada enjoys as a member of a British Commonwealth of Nations. The world-wide celebrations commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession to the throne of His Majesty have impressed the whole world with the unity and solidarity of the empire, the devotion and loyalty of its peoples to the crown and the extent of its influence for peace and security.

"My official connection with Canada is drawing to a close. My interest in the Dominion, however, will not terminate with my departure from its hospitable shores. I shall continue to watch its progress and development with deep and abiding interest and the sincere hope and belief that under God's Providence, it will ever increasingly prosper."

PEOPLE WILL VOTE

Before another session a general election will have created a new Parliament—the eighteenth.

The session ended to-day started January 17.

Associated Press Athens, July 5.—The Greek Federation of Labor planned to-day to call a general strike in protest against "monarchist danger." A date for the strike was not set.

SCORE HURT IN TRAIN CRASH

Two Seriously Injured When Passenger Cars Leave Tracks in Montana

Associated Press Rainville, Mont., July 5.—The Great Northern Railway's Empire Builder, transcontinental passenger train, plunged into a washout and was derailed early to-day, injuring twenty-four persons, at least two seriously.

Eight cars of the sixteen-coach train jumped the tracks, four of them rolling over. The engine remained upright.

The accident occurred at 2:30 a.m., shortly after a cloudburst had washed away about 1,000 feet of track.

First reports were that a wall of water had swept down a hill, just ahead of the westbound flyer, preventing the operation of the block signal system.

The train, traveling at moderate speed, lurched to a jolting stop, according to passengers. Many persons, sleeping at the time, were hurled from their berths.

The injured were taken to Williston, N.D., about sixty miles from here. Doctors there said the more seriously injured included a twelve-year-old boy and the brakeman.

All main line traffic on the Great Northern was tied up in this vicinity as wreckers began work on what was expected to be a twenty-four-hour repair job.

The train was en route to the west coast.

Ethiopians Hope Kellogg Pact Move Will Avert War

Although still officially unconfirmed, details of a reported conflict between Ethiopian and Italian forces on the border of the Italian colony of Eritrea were reaching this capital.

The rumors said Italians crossed the Eritrean border and disregarded orders from Dejas Ayale, Ethiopian provincial governor, entrusted with frontier defense, to withdraw. Heavy casualties were said to have been incurred and the Italians were beaten back in the resultant battle.

MOVE PLEASERS LONDON

London, July 5.—Well-informed British sources to-day said Ethiopia's invasion of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact was to be regarded as a serious development in the situation between Ethiopia and Italy.

An air of relief was noted in official circles because of Ethiopia's action in appealing to the United States as a signatory of the Kellogg pact, instead of this, for the moment, at least, relieves Great Britain of her isolated position in trying to avert the threatened war in Africa.

This British position has not, as yet, received any strong support in the press or in the House of Commons.

Mr. George Paish, British economist, said at Cambridge that the Italian government's action was a "direct result of the financial and economic distress in Italy." In a speech before the League of Nations Union he asserted Mussolini was endeavoring to divert the attention of the Italian people from their own suffering by military activity.

CABLE MESSAGE

Washington, July 5.—Ethiopia's appeal to the United States to invoke the Kellogg-Briand peace pact in view of what it believes is a threatened invasion by Italy, reached Secretary of State Hull to-day.

William Perry George, secretary of the United States legation at Addis Ababa, cabled the State department that Emperor Haile Selassie had summoned him to the palace yesterday.

He made a long speech, in which he requested that the United States consider ways and means to induce Italy to live up to its obligations under the pact.

Following the interview, George reported, he was handed a lengthy written statement setting forth the views of "King of Kings" on the Italian-Ethiopian dispute, and requesting the friendly offices of the United States Government in achieving a peaceful solution.

This note, reported from Addis Ababa to comprise five pages, has not yet been received at the department. Secretary Hull and other officials refused to make any comment on the situation.

ITALIAN CHARGES

Canadian Press from Rome Rome, July 5.—Charges that Great Britain's anxiety to prevent Italy declaring war on Ethiopia was based on a desire to safeguard her own plans in East Africa were circulated here to-day.

Great Britain's support of the League of Nations in efforts to avert war in East Africa is motivated by a desire to screen her actions in that region, the semi-official newspaper, Giornale d'Italia declared.

Addis Ababa, July 5.—Ethiopia has no aggressive intentions against her neighbors.

That is my answer to accusations we are seeking an outlet to the sea by violent means across neighboring colonies.

It is a fact Ethiopia needs an outlet to the sea, but we shall obtain it by agreement with one or another of our neighbors by ordinary diplomatic means.

The accusation has been made that Ethiopia refuses to collaborate with European powers, namely Italy.

Ethiopia does not refuse to collaborate with any country, but collaboration does not mean to abandon sovereign rights.

It has also been brought to my attention I am accused of dealing with strangers, cultivation of territorial and political ambitions against adjoining colonies, and also inciting African people to revolt against Europeans.

Foreigners established in Ethiopia for a long time are better able to appreciate the reception and hospitality they enjoy in Ethiopia.

The slave trade does not exist any more.

Two Seriously Injured When Passenger Cars Leave Tracks in Montana

Associated Press Rainville, Mont., July 5.—The Great Northern Railway's Empire Builder, transcontinental passenger train, plunged into a washout and was derailed early to-day, injuring twenty-four persons, at least two seriously.

Eight cars of the sixteen-coach train jumped the tracks, four of them rolling over. The engine remained upright.

The accident occurred at 2:30 a.m., shortly after a cloudburst had washed away about 1,000 feet of track.

First reports were that a wall of water had swept down a hill, just ahead of the westbound flyer, preventing the operation of the block signal system.

The train, traveling at moderate speed, lurched to a jolting stop, according to passengers. Many persons, sleeping at the time, were hurled from their berths.

The injured were taken to Williston, N.D., about sixty miles from here. Doctors there said the more seriously injured included a twelve-year-old boy and the brakeman.

All main line traffic on the Great Northern was tied up in this vicinity as wreckers began work on what was expected to be a twenty-four-hour repair job.

The train was en route to the west coast.

Ethiopians Hope Kellogg Pact Move Will Avert War

Although still officially unconfirmed, details of a reported conflict between Ethiopian and Italian forces on the border of the Italian colony of Eritrea were reaching this capital.

The rumors said Italians crossed the Eritrean border and disregarded orders from Dejas Ayale, Ethiopian provincial governor, entrusted with frontier defense, to withdraw. Heavy casualties were said to have been incurred and the Italians were beaten back in the resultant battle.

MOVE PLEASERS LONDON

London, July 5.—Well-informed British sources to-day said Ethiopia's invasion of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact was to be regarded as a serious development in the situation between Ethiopia and Italy.

An air of relief was noted in official circles because of Ethiopia's action in appealing to the United States as a signatory of the Kellogg pact, instead of this, for the moment, at least, relieves Great Britain of her isolated position in trying to avert the threatened war in Africa.

This British position has not, as yet, received any strong support in the press or in the House of Commons.

Mr. George Paish, British economist, said at Cambridge that the Italian government's action was a "direct result of the financial and economic distress in Italy." In a speech before the League of Nations Union he asserted Mussolini was endeavoring to divert the attention of the Italian people from their own suffering by military activity.

CABLE MESSAGE

Washington, July 5.—Ethiopia's appeal to the United States to invoke the Kellogg-Briand peace pact in view of what it believes is a threatened invasion by Italy, reached Secretary of State Hull to-day.

William Perry George, secretary of the United States legation at Addis Ababa, cabled the State department that Emperor Haile Selassie had summoned him to the palace yesterday.

He made a long speech, in which he requested that the United States consider ways and means to induce Italy to live up to its obligations under the pact.

Following the interview, George reported, he was handed a lengthy written statement setting forth the views of "King of Kings" on the Italian-Ethiopian dispute, and requesting the friendly offices of the United States Government in achieving a peaceful solution.

This note, reported from Addis Ababa to comprise five pages, has not yet been received at the department. Secretary Hull and other officials refused to make any comment on the situation.

BEGIN RAISING AIR STRENGTH

U.S. Army Air Force Lets First Contract Under New Programme

Associated Press Washington, July 5.—Setting out to boost the United States army air corps strength to 2,326 planes the War Department has awarded a $245,578 contract for twenty-six primary training ships.

The training planes, to be produced by the Stearman Aircraft Company of Wichita, Kas., are the initial acquisition of 474 planes expected to be secured this year with approximately $22,000,000 now available.

Contracts for eighty-five bombing planes are expected to be awarded on August 22, and contracts for pursuit, cargo and other types at intervals soon after that date.

MANY VISITORS FROM PRAIRIES

Vancouver, July 5.—Nearly 600 prairie visitors, members of the annual excursion organized by the B.C. and Prairie Oldfolks societies, poured into town on two special trains over Canadian Pacific lines yesterday afternoon.

The first train, arriving at 1:40 p.m., carried nearly 500 from the Regina and Moose Jaw districts, while the second train, arriving at 4:05 p.m., brought close to 500 from Calgary and four cars of Regina tourists.

Aboard the second train was W. T. Pitt of Regina, who is organizer of the special movement which is bringing some 1,500 Oldfolks visitors to the Coast this summer for a fortnight's stay.

A. J. Mahon and Ernie Officer, Canadian Pacific passenger officials aboard the trains, said the prairie visitors planned to make many side trips to other points along the Coast.

Most of them are planning visits to Victoria, while others will take in Nanaimo, New Westminster and Powell River.

MacPhail Inquiry Nears Its End

Canadian Press Ottawa, July 5.—In contrast with former lively hearings, to-day's session of the MacPhail inquiry was devoid of feature. Page after page of evidence was cited to Judge E. J. Daly by R. H. Greer, K.C., commission agent. He was at a disadvantage, said Mr. Greer, in that his position precluded him from offering argument.

This accorded with the commission's view, Judge Daly having instructed commission counsel "it is not to lie with him to take sides."

Indications were the inquiry would close to-day. J. C. McRae, K.C., counsel for Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., will follow Mr. Greer. After that George Alfred Hall, whose affidavit precipitated the investigation, will present argument.

The inquiry arose when Miss MacPhail was granted a commission to investigate charges set forth in Hall's affidavit. These alleged Inspector A. D. Dawson of the penitentiaries branch had, in conversation with Hall, then a convict in the Kingston penitentiary, employed abusive language in reference to Miss MacPhail.

The words complained of were that "Aggie had made a fool of herself in the House of Commons; and what we are through with her she will not let her head again in the House."

ALASKA ROAD PLEA HEARD

George N. Murray, M.P.P. For Lillooet, Advocates Early Start on Project

Canadian Press
Toronto, July 5.—When the British Columbia relief camp strikers jumped freight trains for their ill-fated "On-to-Ottawa" trek, they made only one miscalculation, in the opinion of George N. Murray, member of the British Columbia Legislature for Lillooet. They should have been heading north instead of east, he said here yesterday.

"What they should be doing," he said, "is working on the proposed British Columbia-Tukon-Alaska Highway." Construction of the highway has the approval of President Roosevelt of the United States, and Mr. Murray said plans had been discussed for the province to make land grants to companies to construct the Canadian end of the road.

"With President Roosevelt personally supporting the plan to serve Alaska with highways, we in British Columbia should launch construction of the British Columbia portion of the road at once," he said. "We have the manpower available, the road-building machinery, equipment and supplies, and for such a constructive work there is the money available."

WORK FOR THOUSANDS
"There is work for thousands of men there, and the highways would open up a vast area of land that would repay development and absorb unemployed men—all the unemployed in Canada."

A couple of weeks ago Premier Pattullo said that while the B.C. government approved the proposal to build an international highway to Alaska and would be glad to co-operate with the Dominion government and the United States, so far as any land grant was concerned in respect of building through British Columbia, the government would entertain nothing of the kind.

P.E.I. LIBERALS ARE CAMPAIGNING

Canadian Press
Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 5.—Liberals of Prince Edward Island are successful at the polls July 23, would decrease public expenditure, develop new markets for livestock and farm products, and manage the finances of the province with economy as the keynote, declared Thane A. Campbell, K.C., campaign leader, in an address yesterday evening.

The speech, prepared in collaboration with the opposition leader, Walter M. Lea, recovering from a lengthy illness at his home in Victoria, was the first Liberal broadcast in the present campaign.

The men are John G. Brown of Giffnock, Renfrewshire; Dennis Brundit of London; W. A. Buchanan of Southsea, who as a drummer was mentioned in dispatches for coolness under fire at Fish Creek in the Riel Rebellion; A. N. Mout, British Columbia, and Major J. Harry Mullins of Finsbury Park, who had a long service record in India.

All served in the Northwest campaign.

New Einstein Matter Theory

Atoms May Be Bridges in Space, According to Latest Work of Scientist

Associated Press
New York, July 5.—Prof. Albert Einstein in a new theory shows that matter may be only space in a peculiar form, the things that men recognize as atomic particles being little bridges in space and somehow made of space itself.

He published the theory yesterday in the Physical Review jointly with N. Rosen, one of his co-workers at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton University. His theory is a new mathematical explanation of a mystery recently puzzling scientists who have found and experimented with the minute atomic particles which are the building materials of the physical world. These bits of stuff are seemingly electrical. They obey physical laws not well understood. Guesswork has likened them to knots or "packets" existing in chains or immaterial waves.

Professor Einstein removes some of the guesswork. He demonstrates for the first time that one individual atomic particle can be shown mathematically to be a "bridge" connecting "two identical sheets of space."

PUBLIC WORKS PLANS URGED

Canadian Press
Quebec, B.C., July 5.—Revaluation of gold and immediate use of new currency to put men to work on such projects as construction of a highway to the Peace River district via Finlay Forks as a solution of Canada's present economic problems have been placed before residents of this district by J. G. Turgeon, Liberal candidate for the Commons in Carleton Place, Ontario, in a speech here yesterday. "Our people should be put to work, not on purposeless jobs but on necessary work, which will save us from being strangled to death by unemployment and the discontent and despair that arise from it," Mr. Turgeon said. "I consider this to be the first duty of government regardless of anything else."

There was no struggle in Canada between the public and industry, he said. The struggle was between the public and the centralization of industry which permitted the unjust accumulation of wealth.

SOON WILL ADD TO POST OFFICE

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 5.—Plans for the proposed addition to the Vancouver post office have been filed with the civic building department along with an application for a permit for construction.

The building, which will cost $1,171,000, will be situated at Cordova and Granville Streets and will join the old post office at the lane, which is to be closed. It will have a frontage of 143 feet on Granville and 120 on Cordova.

The addition will be seven stories high, exclusive of two basements. A tunnel will connect the building with the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks to expedite handling of mail.

NEW ROAD RULES IN GREAT BRITAIN

Canadian Press
London, July 5.—Thirteen million copies of the Ministry of Transport's new highway code containing rules of conduct for pedestrians and motorists, will be distributed to the households of Great Britain in a few days. This will be the biggest distribution of government literature ever attempted.

Since the Great War, no less than £900,000,000 has been spent on road reconstruction in the United Kingdom, including 400 miles of new roads. The Ministry of Transport is nevertheless proceeding with a further five-year programme of road construction.

Chamberlain Declares "Reasonable Optimism" Justified in Great Britain

Canadian Press
London, July 5.—The spirit of "reasonable optimism" in which the finance bill embodying the recent budget proposals was framed was claimed by Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, today, to be justified by the situation of the country. Moving third reading of the bill in the Commons, Mr. Chamberlain contrasted gradual lightening of the burden of taxation in Great Britain with the position in other countries, where fresh economies and fresh taxation were contemplated.

He warned against sharp reversals of policy and rash experiments "calculated to undermine public confidence." Despite efforts of the Liberal Party to "dampen the spirits" of the country, they remained persistently and doggedly cheerful, Mr. Chamberlain added.

THIRD PARTY PLANS IN U.S.

Huey Long and Governor Olson of Minnesota For President

Associated Press
Omaha, Neb., July 5.—Roy M. Harrop, Council Bluffs, Ia., attorney, and guiding hand in the third party convention scheduled to open here next Monday, said today he had been notified by a Kentucky delegate that United States Senator Huey Long would be proposed for President at the convention.

"I have been notified by the delegate that Senator Long's name will be advanced. I understand it will be proposed that Senator Long be drafted for President," Harrop said.

Harrop stated delegates from thirty states would be present. Included would be members of the Farmer-Labor Party, the old Liberty Party and the Technocrats, Harrop said. The object of the convention here would be to bind all groups dissatisfied with the Republican and Democratic parties into a solid third party organization.

AT CHICAGO

Chicago, July 5.—The vanguard of third party enthusiasts was making plans here today for the 1936 United States Presidential campaign. The conference was called by five members of Congress, who invited unofficial representatives of many groups to participate including the National Farm Holiday Association, the Farmer-Labor Political Federation and the Socialist Party. Sponsors said it was too early to discuss their plans, as far as candidates were concerned. Only one man, mentioned as a possible Presidential candidate, Governor Floyd Olson of Minnesota, had been invited to attend.

Neither Senator Huey P. Long nor Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin, radio priest of Detroit, had received an invitation it was reported.

C.I.D. LEADER FOR VANCOUVER

Canadian Press

"With so much activity by Communists, we must equip our department to function on a much wider basis, and Superintendent Darling has been loaned to us for that purpose."

THEIR SINKING SAND

THE GROUND UNDER PRESENT-DAY dictatorships everywhere has begun to crumble so ominously that in spite of rigid press censorship the rumbling can be heard all over the world. Both Fascist and Communist dictatorships are confronted with domestic conditions which daily are growing more threatening, and it may safely be predicted that within a year or two the select little coterie of freedom suppressors who arose in the train of the Great War will be minus some of its most conspicuous figures.

In this situation lies the chief menace to peace. From the earliest times dictators, finding their security at home threatened, have sought safety in war in the hope that this would divert the attention of their people from their own miseries. Military mobilization, ballyhoo, flag-waving and propaganda for the purpose of inflaming the public mind against some outside foe have been resorted to. The orthodox practice has been to attack some power whose conquest would not be difficult and would offer spoils. But even this in every case has been futile, for the reaction of war, whether victorious or not, eventually has brought about the collapse the war was designed to avert.

Mussolini is pursuing the customary course in Ethiopia, with all of the usual frills. He is doing it because Italy's economic condition is becoming intolerable. In the last six months of 1934 there were 300 different organized peasant revolts in the country. With the reduction of the living standard of the Italian people to a lower level than anything hitherto known anywhere else in western Europe, unless it be in Germany, revolutionary sentiment has been growing steadily and is bound to break out in open rebellion.

All this accounts for the determination to conquer Ethiopia, regardless of the covenant of the League of Nations, of which both countries are members, and of the attitude of the rest of the world. It accounts also for the expulsion of foreign press correspondents, the refusal to permit great newspapers like The Manchester Guardian, The New York Times and The Chicago Tribune, not to mention a score of others, to be circulated in Italy. Mussolini, whose nephew directs all of the parrot Italian press, dare not permit the Italian people to know the conditions of their own country from outside newspapers, but in spite of this iron-clad censorship they are gradually finding it out. So a war of bankruptcy is devised, and with it an attempt on one hand to represent Italy as the victim of outside hostility, and on the other to inflame the Italian people with a picture of a pathway of infinite glory before them along which will be revived the ancient power and renown of the Caesars. It is a crazy conception, but it is the inevitable sequel to a crazy system.

In Germany, Hitlerism is faced with similar adverse economic conditions, which had their reaction in the repudiation of the Treaty of Versailles, the withdrawal from the League of Nations and the re-arming of the Reich on land, sea and in the air. All these are preparatory for an ultimate resort to an outside military adventure when the home situation becomes sufficiently threatening to make it necessary. Germany has many millions of unemployed. Wages of the unemployed have dropped 45 per cent while the cost of living has risen 30 per cent. There has been an impairment of the health and general welfare of the people. The foreign trade has dropped to almost nothing. The currency of the nation is unsafe, while its credit has disappeared. Undoubtedly Hitler's naval agreement with Britain was intended to keep the latter on the side-lines, while he laid the foundation for the outside aggressive policy which he realizes inside conditions eventually will force him to adopt.

In Russia, Communist dictator Stalin is endeavoring to forestall a counter-revolution inspired by the exiled Trotsky, who has moved to Norway so that he may be nearer the scene of his objective. Stalin has been meeting this threat with characteristic ruthlessness. On the other hand he has been relaxing some of the restrictions upon the social habits of the people. He has an advantage over the Fascist dictators, however, in the fact that there are two potential outside enemies made to order for him, and he therefore does not have to look around for one. In the west he has Germany, whose policy is directed to egging Poland into an invasion of the Ukraine and the promotion of revolutions in Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia. In the east he has Japan. His propagandists can make out a better case than Mussolini or Hitler, and his vast programme of armament and military preparation can be imposed upon the country regardless of cost.

Japan is under a military dictatorship with certain definite reservations. That is to say, the war leaders have been conducting their adventures abroad independently of the governmental responsibility which is attached to the other services. Their propaganda emphasizes the menace of Russian communism and the hostility of China, and it has been accompanied by the assassination of a number of those who have opposed military aggression. Nevertheless, the opposition to the war policy is steadily growing in Japan and is bound to explode with violence in the long run.

A short time ago the National Policy Council of Japan heard from Finance Minister Takahashi that 10,000,000,000 yen is the limit of internal bond issues Japan can absorb, and that she already has absorbed 8,650,000,000 yen. He asked the fighting services to respond to Soviet proposals for a peace pact, pointing out that the cost of Japan's military operations would bankrupt the country. The danger of this situation is that Japan's military dictators, like those of Europe, also may deem it necessary to pick a fight with an outside foe, possibly Russia, and if they do they will go down in domestic revolution no matter whether they win or lose. All of the dictators are playing a losing game, but the price will be paid by their unfortunate dupes—the people.

THE REASON WHY

AFTER THE LEADERS OF THE TWO major parties had had an intimate chat for about half an hour following the rising of the House of Commons at Ottawa the other night, newspapermen asked both the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition whether any statement could be made. Both refused to be drawn; but one newspaperman asked Mr. King if it would be safe to say that the question of forming a coalition, or so-called national government had not been the topic of the discourse. The opposition leader assured him that it would be quite safe to say that the matter had not been discussed.

Clarification of Mr. King's position—and, of course, the position of the Liberal party—is to be found in a dispatch from Ottawa this morning. Here is Mr. King's statement: "You may be sure the people of Canada are in no mood to continue any Tory government in office, regardless of the name by which it may seek to conceal its identity. Those who are sponsors of a national government to-day are making a last desperate effort to place a 'special interests' administration in office under another name. The Liberal party will have nothing to do with any manoeuvre of the kind."

Mr. King need not apologize for his statement. The opinion of the public of Canada in political affairs is reflected in the fact that since and including the Quebec elections in 1931—the present administration at Ottawa was elected in 1930—seven provincial governments have been elected, all Liberal with the exception of Manitoba which is Progressive with strong Liberal leanings, really a Liberal-Progressive government. Here is the record in figures:

BEFORE DISSOLUTION

	Libs.	Progs.	Cons.	Others

Nova Scotia.....	16	20
British Columbia.....	11	35	1

The foregoing does not include vacancies, nor does it take into account other parties. It includes as Progressives the Manitoba government members and the Liberal-Progressives in the Ontario House. The main point to be borne in mind, however, as justification of Mr. Mackenzie King's statement this morning, is that in all the seven provinces which have voted since the present government at Ottawa assumed office, only fifty-one Conservative members have been elected to the local legislatures.

CANADA TO MEXICO

ON WEDNESDAY OF THIS WEEK, twenty-three-year-old Earl Ortman, an airman from Los Angeles, flew from Vancouver to Agua Caliente in just a little more than five hours, thus beating by a small margin the former record set up by the late Jimmy Weddell in 1933.

We are getting used to new records in the air; but this feat of Earl Ortman's is an arresting one because it makes Canada and Mexico more neighborly. Agua Caliente is more than 1,200 miles from Vancouver, and the distance was flown in less than five hours and a half.

Ortman estimated he was doing 300 miles an hour on the southern half of his flight on Wednesday. He is now making preparations for a new speed record for land planes—314 miles an hour claimed for Weddell.

When we realize that this province, as we consider the thing in terms of flying, is only a little more than five hours from Mexico, we get a vivid idea of how science has contracted the world in the last two decades. Since the dawn of the present century heavier-than-air machines have been developed from the few-minute flight of the Wrights at Kitty Hawk, the epochal event of Blériot's English Channel crossing, to an extent which, even in the days of the Great War, would have been considered almost unbelievable.

This development in transportation ought to mean a better understanding between nations. A war in the air should be regarded as impossible for the simple reason that it would mean wholesale destruction of life and property—a war which no country could win.

Aerial travel, combined with the voice through the air by means of the radio, has contracted the world. Surely the contraction should be used for good purposes.

Just Folks

REQUEST FOR A "FORMAL"

Little Janet wants a "formal"! Such desire I'm told is normal. But a formal is a garment With a train that sweeps the floor, And somehow her daddy's guess is Once that raiment she possesses We've a lady in the parlor, But a little girl no more.

I'm not much on women's fashions, But I know the female passions And I know their hearts (God bless 'em) Ache for pretty things to wear. They've a love for silks and laces Which no other love displaces And no matter what a man says, It's for gowns they really care.

Well, I shake my head and wonder As along through life I blunder, If we ought to swap our baby For a lady all complete. Should I try this urge to slow-up? She's so eager now to grow up. She'll be lovely in a formal. But that child will lose was sweet.

Loose Ends

Sure they were happy and contented—Mr. McGeer has a real news story; but nobody notices it—We practice cruelty to children—But it's still harder on grown-ups.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

HAPPY

THE BOYS in the relief camps of British Columbia, says Mr. Bennett, were "happy and contented" before the communists got among them. This is a remarkable revelation but, like many of the revelations revealed down in Ottawa, it has the slight disadvantage of being untrue. That is to say, the boys were never happy and contented according to ordinary standards.

I suppose, however, happiness and contentment are a matter of degree and contrast. To a prime minister of Canada, for example, a boy working in a relief camp for twenty cents a day may seem an extremely lucky fellow—no party, no caucus, no public to worry about, no election ahead, no responsibility. But while a peaceful relief camp may seem like heaven to a prime minister of Canada, who lives in the midst of alarms, that is not enough to recommend it.

The public of Canada has a right to expect more happiness and contentment than its rulers, who voluntarily sacrifice all those things to serve it. Surely, for all our madness, we haven't got to the stage yet where relief camp board and twenty cents a day represents happiness and contentment. Statemen in Ottawa may think so, but it might be a bad idea if a few of them sampled this style of life in place of the Chateau Laurier, with its Babylonian splendor and six-course meals at $1.50 each.

It would be good for their souls. It would give them relief from the sore trials of high office in these ungrateful times. It would make them happy and contented, just like the camp boys. They would be so happy and contented that they would be leading the strike and the march to Ottawa.

One wonders if the statemen of Ottawa, any of them, of either party, look at the strikers and realize that, but for a freak of fortune and the accident of birth, they might be in relief camps, too.

NEWS STORY

MR. GERRY MCGEER was over from Vancouver this week, and the newspapers carried long news stories about his business with the government. But they overlooked the real news story of Mr. McGeer. The Vancouver papers had given some hint of the phenomenon. They had all said that Mr. McGeer's new overcoat might seem like a news story to those who hadn't seen it from close range, but that those who had seen it knew better. The Vancouver papers were right. Worn by a public figure like Mr. McGeer, such an overcoat ceases to be a personal possession and becomes a sort of civic landmark visible for miles around.

Mr. McGeer's overcoat, with mighty red checks on a black and white background, is quite the most interesting event in Mr. McGeer's eventful career. Unfortunately it was a warm day when he came over here, and the owner carried the priceless object over his arm so that the public hardly got the full effect of it, which is regrettable. But those who saw it at the Parliament Building came away with a new respect for the high courage of Vancouver's mayor. A man who can wear such an overcoat is bound to get somewhere in the world. With the priceless object on his arm, Mr. McGeer paused long enough to pour out a torrent of words about Mr. Bennett, just as Mr. Bennett had poured out a torrent about Mr. McGeer the previous evening in Parliament. Each of them is so fluent, abuse thunders out in such a Niagara of choice phrases that you are forced to the conclusion that a great part of the time of the mayor of Vancouver is spent in thinking up nasty things to say about Mr. Bennett, while the prime minister must use his spare moments, when he finds the need of a little relaxation, in thinking up nasty things to say about the mayor of Vancouver. It is a pleasant way to spend the summer.

HORRID SIGHT

ONE OF THE MOST pitiable sights of our time is a small boy or girl living in the luxury of the city during the summer holidays. A child confined to the pavements at this season is a terrible commentary on our economic system. At this season nature demands that the young should be torn bodily from civilization and thrust into the wilderness, where they can be happy. In any society reasonably ordered, all kids would be placed in the woods for two months every year at least.

With an unerring instinct for the real and substantial things of life, the child will know that the woods, with none of the advantages of civilization, are far superior to the city with every luxury. And in the two months the child will learn more of importance than in ten months of school. He will learn things that they can't teach him at school, things that will stay with him all his life.

But the sorry fact is that in this young country, on the edge of the wilderness, this pioneer land of hardy men and strong women, the average small boy or girl never gets off the pavement, except into a playing field or a movie theatre. The roads are packed these days with kids trying to beg a lift to Goldstream or Elk Lake, when all of them should be sleeping under canvas and learning, while they are still young enough to learn and not crystallized and hopeless like us, that there is more to life than getting and spending. Then, when they grew up, we might have some sanity in the country.

POOR FELLOWS

THERE IS ONLY one sight more pitiable than children chained to the city these days, and that is the sight of grown-men planning to leave it. Observe how the successful man of business prepares for his two weeks' vacation. See with what high emotion he gazes into windows at fishing tackle and buys fly hooks which he secretes in a drawer under his spare shirt. Note how he reads guide books and resort folders in the privacy of his office when he is supposed to be in conference on a big deal. Mark how he collects road maps and posters his friends for information about the condition of the Cariboo Highway.

But you cannot know by all these outward manifestations the fierce joy of anticipation that beats in his breast. You cannot guess what ecstasies convulse his spirit, what visions of the outdoors sear his mind, or how he imagines himself during the wilderness, going back to nature, proving to himself that, despite all the soft, debilitating luxury of civilization, his old vigorous manhood is strong and unimpaired.

This, I say, is all pitiable and tragic, for the poor fellow will not go into the wilderness, will never test his manhood. His wife will drag him off for a motor trip to California. Right here in this peaceful city, with all its outside air of comfort and security, this kind of brutality is being practised on thousands of fellows at this very moment, and nothing can be done about it.

WORK AND WAGES

To the Editor:—Those who are urging, and quite rightly so, for a programme of work and wages seem to have but one idea, namely, to put those who are now unemployed to work at unskilled jobs such as road building. To my mind there are other and better ways in which some of the money which may be allotted for a work programme can be spent. For instance our schools are notoriously understaffed; in many instances one teacher has to teach as many as forty pupils. I have had experience of teaching and know that this is fair neither to the pupil nor the teacher. Then there are large numbers of qualified teachers who cannot obtain teaching posts. To put these teachers (Turn to Page 17, Col. 2)

Sports Day Is Well Attended

N. Hammond Qualifies at Courtenay to Compete for Canadian Loggers' Title

Courtenay, July 5.—Some 8,000 people attended the Dominion Day and loggers' sports at Oyster River under the auspices of the Courtenay Native Sons. Track sports and water sports were held on a three-mile stretch of sand.

One of the features of the affair was a barbecue. A whole beef was roasted from 2 o'clock in the morning to be ready for lunch.

Norman Hammond, of Camp 3 Comox Logging and Railway Company, won the district championship in bucking with a time of 1 minute 39 seconds for the 24½-lb. log. The former district champion for four years, Fred Dahl, of Camp 3, was third with a time of 2 minutes. Art Constable, of Comox Lake camp, Comox Logging Company, was second in 1 minute 55 seconds. James Day of Camp 3 filed the winning saw, also Dahl's saw, and Louis Shulston filed Constable's saw. Hammond will now be eligible to compete in Vancouver for the championship of Canada title.

First for the eye splice was Jack Downey of Camp 3, 3 minutes 23 seconds; second, Henry Crawford, Great Central, 4 minutes 35 seconds; third, Max Grant, Camp 3, 6 minutes 2 seconds.

Downey and his camp mate, Mike Grant, were the only entrants for the long splice. They did their stuff on exhibition only.

In a spirited exhibition of log rolling, in which five took part, Wallace Baitke won the prize.

Other sports results were:

Girls' race, 6 and under—1, A. Salow; 2, Jean Veltch.

Boys' race, 6 and under—1, W. Peterson; 2, Jack Craig.

YOUTH SAVED AT FOUL BAY

G. Watkins Rescued After Skiff Capsized; Companion Swims to Safety

When the boat in which he and a companion were rowing capsized just inside the reef at Foul Bay, George Watkins was rescued by onlookers who picked him up after he had clung to his upturned boat for several minutes on Wednesday morning.

George was out with Alec Merriman, Robertson Street, in a small skiff and when nearing the mouth of the bay, about 100 yards out, a large wave from a passenger steamer upset the craft.

Realizing the small boat would not support both of them Merriman swam ashore while Watkins hung to the upturned boat. His plight was seen by several persons on the beach, among them Reg. and Eric Storer.

With two companions Reg. Storer launched another boat to the rescue. Just out from shore one of the oars broke and his younger brother, Eric, and another youth took a second boat out and succeeded in rescuing Watkins.

A national research committee has estimated that the earth is at least two thousand million years old.

PORT ALBERNI CELEBRATION

Large Crowds Attend Dominion Day Events in Island City

Port Alberni, July 5.—A crowd estimated at 1,500 witnessed the celebration and sports programme here on Dominion Day.

The celebration was under joint auspices of the Native Sons of Canada and Alberni Athletic Association. The day's programme started with a parade, for which prizes were offered, and hundreds of citizens lined the streets.

The forenoon was devoted to sports for the kiddies up to fifteen years of age, and there were so many entries for each event that in most cases several heats had to be run.

In the afternoon the adults held the spotlight and there was some keen competition in many of the events, which included horseshoe pitching, bicycle racing, sprints and long-distance racing, baseball throwing, horse racing etc. Although Semon and Bill Tater were the only competitors in the horse race, they staged a neck-and-neck finish that had the crowd up on its toes.

St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society put on a programme of Highland dancing, for which silver and bronze medals were given as prizes. Mrs. Fred McLean, W. Burnip and J. Forsyth were the judges.

The climax of the afternoon's sports came with the baseball game between Waterfronts and Kingsways, won by the latter, 19 to 10.

In the evening a large crowd packed the Community Hall for the celebration dance, featured by the music of Stan Grant and his Hollyburn Pavilion Orchestra from Vancouver. The feature of the dance was the drawing for a 1935 Ford V8 sedan, Mrs. G. M. Campbell holding the winning ticket.

Rotary Learns About Mexico

Percy Scourrah Gives Address on International Convention in Mexico City

Speaking at the Rotary luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon, Rotarian Percy Scourrah stated that the International Rotary Convention held in Mexico City recently was highly successful, with over 5,400 delegates representing 2,700 clubs from all parts of the world in attendance.

Mr. Scourrah, who was Victoria's official delegate to the convention, told the members about conditions, political and economic, in Mexico.

Most of the Rotarian delegates at the convention attended one of the big bullfights.

The speaker went on to discuss the convention proper. He said that resolutions were received from Rotary clubs from all over the world. These resolutions were considered by the general meeting, and later tabulated for further discussion before the assembly. Mr. Scourrah mentioned one resolution that came from Spain, asking that the Rotary clubs sponsor a peace prize and that the members of all clubs be assessed to make the prize worth while. This resolution, said Mr. Scourrah, did not even reach "first base," as it was rejected by the resolutions committee. In closing, the speaker told his audience about the fine treatment he and the other delegates had received from the people of Mexico City.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Scourrah.

Earlier in the programme Rotarian James Adam introduced visiting Rotarians and welcomed them to the city. Jimmy McLarnin, former welterweight champion, of Vancouver, was a guest at the luncheon.

Rotarian Jack McKay made a brief report to the meeting on cricket. He announced that the four service clubs in Victoria would meet in "mortal combat" at the University cricket grounds next Wednesday afternoon, and asked all members to be on hand.

Rotarian Jim Beatty made an appeal for four volunteers to help transfer members of the Old Men's Home to their annual picnic next week. Herbert Pendray presided.

For Mayor Morley, Aldermen Fullerton, McKeown, Raymond and Bannerman. Against: Aldermen Humber, Mable, Ross, Bishop and Sargison. By this vote, and adverse one owing to it being a tie, the proposition to increase the liquor license fees in Victoria was defeated at yesterday evening's meeting of the City Council.

Viewed from every standpoint yesterday afternoon's yachting regatta was a complete and gratifying success. If exception to this statement were taken it would be on the ground that none of the races were won by Victoria yachts, but that fact reflects no discredit on the local craft, which were sailed splendidly and made a good race wherever they were entered.

Winners in the long distance power boat race from Tacoma to Victoria, which finished here on Sunday were announced last evening at the annual meeting of the P.P.E.A. Fred Brinton, on behalf of the race committee, reported the results as follows: Winner of special prize, Salmonero, Capt. Sims, Port Townsend; first prize, Half Moon, Capt. Knox Walker, Vancouver; second prize, Limit, Capt. A.

W. LePage, Vancouver; third prize, Summer, Capt. George C. Summer, Everett; fourth prize, Petrol, Capt. J. R. Van Dyke, Vancouver.

Independence Day was suitably celebrated yesterday by the American residents of this city. The afternoon was spent at Bagan Park, Sidney, a special train leaving here at 1 o'clock and returning at 7 o'clock. Close on to 500 persons were present. The committee in advertising this fourth of July celebration, stated it was going to be a real good old fashioned picnic, and true to their intentions it was. It was also typical of the way the southerners celebrate their national day, fireworks, bombs and other minor explosions going off continuously during the afternoon.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoons of Solado Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After five minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1 1/2 cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir well until sugar is dissolved. Fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water; otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chilled ice.

But I did not give up. I drew his attention to the fact that if his theory was correct, the boundary between Trabol and Strabol (the temperate and the equatorial zones) should be much shorter than that separating Trabol from Karbol, the polar region, as was shown on the map, but could not have been proved by actual survey; while my theory would require that the exact opposite be true, which was easily demonstrable and was, have been demonstrated if surveys had ever been made, which I judged from the markings on the map to be the case.

CHAPTER XI

Danus admitted that surveys had been made and that they had shown the apparent discrepancy that I had pointed out, but he explained this ingeniously by a purely Amorian theory of the relativity of distance, which he proceeded to elucidate. "A degree is one thousandth part of the circumference of a circle," he commenced. (This is the Amorian degree, her savants not having had the advantage of a visible sun to suggest another division of the circumference of a circle as did the Babylonians, who hit upon 360 as being close enough.) "And no matter what the length of the circumference, it measures just 1,000 degrees. The circle which separates Trabol from Karbol is necessarily 1,000 degrees in length. You will admit that?"

"Certainly," I replied. "Very good. Then will you admit that the circle which separates Trabol from Karbol measures exactly 1,000 degrees?"

I nodded my assent. "Things which equal the same thing equal each other, do they not? Therefore, the inner and outer boundaries of Trabol are of equal length, and this is true because of the truth of the theory of relativity of distance. The degree is our unit of linear measure. It would be ridiculous to say that the farther one was removed from the centre of Amor the longer the unit of distance became; it only appears to become longer in relation to the circumference of the circle and in relation to the distance from the centre of Amor it is precisely the same. "I know," he admitted, "that on the map it does not appear to be the same, nor do actual surveys indicate that it is the same; but it must be the same, for if it were not, it is obvious that Amor would be larger around the circumference and in relation to the centre and smallest of all at the perimeter, which is so obviously ridiculous as to require no refutation. "This seeming discrepancy caused the ancients considerable perturbation until about 3,000 years ago, when Kiarur, the great scientist, expounded the theory of the relativity of distance and demonstrated that the real and apparent measurements of distance could be reconciled by multiplying each by the square root of minus one."

I saw that argument was useless and said no more; there is no use arguing with a man who can multiply anything by the square root of minus one. For some time I had been aware that I was in the house of Mintep the king, and that the country was called Vepaja. Jong, which I had originally thought to be his name, was his title; it is Amorian for king. I learned that Duran was of the house of Zar and that Othlar and Kamlot were his sons; Zuro, one of the women I had met there, was attached to Duran; the other, also, was attached to Othlar. Kamlot had no woman. I use the word attached partially because it is a reasonably close translation of the Amorian word for the connection and partially because to other word seems exactly to explain the relationship between these men and women.

They were not married, because the institution of marriage is unknown here. One could not say that they belonged to the men, because they were in no sense slaves or servants, nor had they been acquired by purchase or test of arms. They had come willingly, following a courtship, and they were free to depart wherever they chose, just as the men were free to depart and seek other connections; but, as I was to learn later, these connections are seldom broken, while infidelity is so rare here as it is prevalent on earth.

Each day I took exercise on the broad veranda that encircled the tree at the level upon which my apartment was located; at least, I remember that it encircled the tree, but I did not know, as that portion signified a part of the circumference of a circle, was but a 100 feet long, a fifth part of the circumference of the

Missionary's Cabled Proposal Answered in Novel Way By Bride-elect

Associated Press
Kansas City, July 5.—All Miss Frances Elliot needed to cable to Rev. David Thomas Wright at Port Elizabeth, South Africa, was "Ruth 1:16," and the young minister knew she was saying she would marry him, for Ruth 1:16 reads:

"And Ruth said, 'Interest me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.'"

And his return cable exalted, simply, "Ruth 1:16," and read: "Where thou diest, I will die, there will I be buried; the Lord do so to me, and more also, if I ought not to death part thee and me."

To-morrow Miss Elliot will start for the little native mission church at Port Elizabeth thirty-three degrees south of the equator and a wedding in September.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

AND HERE'S A CHILD WHO EATS AND EATS AND EATS!

It is always interesting to note those situations which mothers consider to be troublesome. The predicaments of some mothers look surprisingly like blessings to some others. I am very careful of her diet and have any diseases or been really sick and has no bad habits, but she has an almost fanatical interest in food.

"She will eat everything put before her, as long as a remnant remains. There seems to be no limit to her appetite. It doesn't seem normal to me, but I am very careful of her diet and balance it as well as I can."

THE IDEAL

"She gets down when I say 'You've had enough,' but she seems to think she should eat as long as there is food in sight. Should I make her eat alone—as she now eats with us—and what about her table manners?" Ten out of ten other mothers would consider this the most delightful of situations. This is the child we have all been looking for. It is abnormal only in that it is so completely ideal and ideal situations are unusual.

It is quite possible you have underestimated the child's capacity. Your own appetite may be small and you measure her food in the same limited way. Of course, the fact that she is well nourished, happy, well and contented with things as they are should encourage you to continue them.

There might be a satisfaction point for the child, which might, eventually, destroy this fine appetite for anything and everything. Because she always is stopped just this side of satiety her appetite continues to bloom luxuriantly.

Table manners should be the result of imitation. The child sees how you comport yourself at table and how you behave in doing likewise. When she stuffs in too large mouthfuls, spills food or eats too fast you would not be human if you did not correct her, and this disapproval combined with your daily example, furnishes her an education in table manners. Criticism, overdone to the point of unpleasant nagging, offers a discouragement to eating and an encouragement to use bad manners as a means of annoying the parent.

WEDDING HELD IN GARDEN

Miss Laura Brethour Thomson Bride of Courtland Bruce Low To-day

The garden at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Thomson, Cedar Hill Road, was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when their eldest daughter, Laura Brethour, became the bride of Mr. Courtland Bruce Low, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Low of Edmonton.

Rev. G. A. Reynolds, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the young couple.

The bride is a member of one of the best-known pioneer families of British Columbia, being a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brethour of Sidney.

Given in marriage by Capt. Thomson, the bride was attractive in her smart lallure suit of white basket weave, with which she wore a becoming white hat and white accessories, and a corsage bouquet of red roses.

She was attended by two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Muriel Thomson, wearing a charming frock of yellow crepe with yellow hat, and Miss Molly Crowhurst wearing a graceful frock of printed crepe in a pink floral design on a blue ground. Her hat was white. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses and sweet peas. Mr. Vernon Jones was groomsmen.

Refreshments were served from a table prettily arranged with flowers and centred with the three-tier wedding cake.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Low left for a honeymoon in Seattle, and on their return will reside in the Linden Apartments.

TWIN SISTERS WED BROTHERS

Associated Press
Danville, Conn., July 5.—Twin French-Canadian sisters were married to brothers yesterday and relatives of the bridegrooms officiated at the services.

The Misses Mildred Louise Tetrault and Marian Anita Tetrault, twenty-two, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Phillis Tetrault, were married to Gerald Boutillier, twenty-two, and Gaston Boutillier, twenty-four, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Boutillier.

Rev. Alphonse Chertier performed the ceremony and Rev. Emil Chertier of Altamont, N.Y., was the celebrant of the mass. Both are uncles of the Boutilliers.

Complimenting her bride-elect daughter, Mrs. Frank Henderson was "at home" last Friday afternoon in Vancouver to a large coterie of friends in honor of Miss Ruth Henderson, whose marriage to Dr. G. F. Davidson of Victoria takes place next Tuesday. Little Paula McCreey admitted the guests, who were received by Mrs. Henderson, attired in a becoming lace model of wood-violet tone, and the bride-elect whose attractive frock was fashioned of ruchella crepe.

Both wore coronas of rosebuds. Lovely roses graced the room, and centred the tea-table that was illumined by the flame of pink and mauve tapers in silver sconces. Mrs. Fred Henderson, Mrs. David Brison, Mrs. W. Fitz Osborne, Miss E. B. Davidson, Mrs. Roy Likely and Mrs. J. H. Erickson presided at the urn, and Mrs. Stuart Stalker, Mrs. A. E. Davidson and Mrs. P. A. Tolmie cut the loaves. Assisting Mrs. Harold Henderson, Mrs. Paul McCreey, Mrs. Harold Cribb and Mrs. W. H. Sutton in serving were: The Misses Jessie Casselman, Marian Casselman, Lillian Coy, Helen Crawford, Margaret Finlay, Frances Higginbotham, Thelma Mahon, Mildred Pratt, Catherine Pratt, Doris Shorney, Peggy Stearns, Jean Sutton, Joan Telford, Doris Woods, Enid Wynnes, Mrs. Gordon Henderson, Mrs. Leslie O'Neill, Mrs. Russell Paul, Miss Betty Allan and Miss Mary Higginbotham displayed the trousseau.

St. Mary's Party Social Was Financial Success

Mrs. R. W. Gibson Generously Opens Home When Rain Halts Fete; $286 Realized For Guild

Despite the rain, changing what was intended to be an alfresco affair into an indoor party, outstanding success attended the annual fete arranged by the Ladies' Guild of St. Mary's Church yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. R. W. Gibson generously threw open her entire home for the occasion, and the various stalls and attractions which were to have been staged in the gardens of her home and that of Mrs. C. F. Armstrong's adjoining, were transferred to the house. As a result the handsome sum of $286 was realized.

During the afternoon Rev. Canon Nunna, on behalf of the guild members, presented Mrs. Gibson with a beautiful basket of flowers.

Immediately following the presentation, George Dyer's thirty-piece orchestra, which was announced on the upper landing of the stairs, played "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The orchestra played selections throughout the afternoon, adding much to the pleasure of the guests.

Thirteen tables of bridge were in progress, under the direction of Mrs. Thornton Marshall. First prize was won by Miss Curry; second, Mrs. Guy Shaw; third, Mrs. Walter M. Walker, and consolation, Mrs. E. Jenkinson.

The players included: Mesdames W. H. Munroe, J. E. B. Dickson, D. O. Cameron, H. A. Rumber, McCrum, Rust, Shannon, Miss MacDonald, Miss M. L. Brown, Mesdames G. S. Brown, F. E. Brown, C. W. Wray, H. TEA SERVED
Tea was served from a table centred with blue and pink Canterbury bells and pansies. In charge of the tea arrangements was Mrs. C. T. Teasdale, who was assisted by Mesdames Philip Herbert Anascomb, W. Webster, H. B. Sharples, Fessenden, W. C. Ard, P. F. Waters, H. B. French, Young, Misses H. Taylor, M. Pease, E. Matheson, M. Scott, C. Youdall and E. Garrett.

Tea tickets were in charge of Mrs. A. A. Bengough, and cups were read by Mesdames F. G. Berton, E. Macdonnell and Ferguson.

The cake guessing competition, conducted by Mrs. G. P. Player, resulted in a tie between Mrs. Ard and Miss Pitts. The tablecloth was won by Mrs. Milton.

The bridge tables and tea arrangements occupied the main floor of the house, while the billiard room housed the various stalls, with games and fortune-telling upstairs, and a coconut shy on the veranda.

The various conveners were as follows: Pancywork, Mrs. W. J. Goepel, and Mrs. E. E. Blowers; music, Mrs. A. D. Cross and Mrs. G. H. Homer; aprons, Mrs. P. Slacey and Miss E. King; woolies, Mrs. F. D. At the gate were Mrs. H. V. Mills and Mrs. T. Cooper. A number of the St. Mary's Boy Scouts rendered valuable assistance in directing the visitors and being generally useful.

WOMAN SENATOR FOR EVERY PROVINCE SUGGESTED SLOGAN

Business Clubs' Federation Head Challenges Women to Take Active Share in Politics; Radio Commission Criticized

Calgary, July 5.—Achievements and aims of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs were outlined by Miss A. Josephine Dauphinee, Vancouver, in her presidential address here last night during an open session of the federation's fifth annual convention.
"A woman senator in every province" should be the slogan of the federation in these days, Miss Dauphinee told delegates.
Federation requests for a woman member of the Canadian representation to the International Labor Congress in Geneva, and for a woman member on the Canadian Radio Commission at its formation, had been ignored, the president said.

RADIO COMMISSION
Charging that Canadian Radio Commission time could be bought for speakers whose "fascistic point of view" had occasioned a letter of protest to the Prime Minister, she stated requests for a national broadcast of special federation broadcasts had been refused.

The federation had obtained in the last few years, Miss Dauphinee continued, recognition by governments, ministers and organizations as the voice of business and professional women in Canada. Four new clubs had been added, and the organization's business had been carried on with a surplus.

Praising the work of minimum wage boards, the speaker said the federation had guarded and protected women's interests, adding women had been assisted in nomination and election to public office.

MRS. PAUL SMITH

There is room and abundant need for women in Canada's various political organizations, Mrs. Paul Smith, Vancouver, British Columbia M.P.F., told delegates, after stating there is no place for a women's party.

Women's ideas should complement men's, Mrs. Smith continued. Cooperation, not opposition, should be the feminine ideal.

"Prepare yourselves not for women's rights, but for assumption of women's responsibilities," she declared, stressing the new emphasis on social problems and their solution.

The speaker urged frequent and systematic change of officers in women's and mixed clubs, thorough knowledge of parliamentary procedure, definite plans of study, compassing problems of the day, and experience in regional and urban clubs and organizations as a preparation for the larger field of provincial and federal parliaments.

STERILIZATION NEEDED
Sterilization is the only solution to the problem of mental deficiency, Dr. Clara Christie of Calgary declared, during discussion of vital legislation.

"We owe care to those alive, but we don't owe a living to their children," Dr. Christie said, in commenting on the large families of imbecile and deficient parents.

"We must educate public opinion that when the sterilization act is tested in the courts of law it will have some chances of successful outcome."

Stating new amendments to the Alberta Marriage Act were unlikely to serve the purpose for which women's organizations in this province had worked, the speaker stated the necessity for a doctor's certificate of freedom from venereal disease, tuberculosis and other such diseases placed an unwarranted responsibility on the medical profession.

PENSIONS SCHEME

The average workers, and not the highly paid executives, should be considered under a retirement pension scheme, Mrs. Margaret Merrick Hall of Victoria said, and the scheme should be all embracing and elastic, with basic contributions small enough to come within the income of the low wage earner, and the complete security for dependents.

The Dominion Unemployment Insurance Bill was seen by Miss P. L. Puse of Calgary as a definite step in the right direction. Miss Puse said, however, that if the $150,000,000 spent in direct relief had been directed into keeping industry going and providing employment, public morale would have been kept up.

STUDY PROBLEM JOBLESS WOMEN

Business Clubs' Convention Hear Report; Dearth of Trained Domestic

Calgary, July 5.—A programme of study dealing with problems of employment for women was recommended to delegates attending the fifth annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs here yesterday.

Miss F. M. Postill of Montreal, chairman of the national survey committee, reported on employment. She recommended study of the problems of discrimination against women workers and that consideration be given projects for the use of leisure time, and that the results, mental and physical, of unemployment of women in occupations be studied.

Conditions appeared to be slightly improved where single women were concerned, Miss Postill reported, and it was noted that there was a dearth of trained workers, particularly in the domestic field. Efforts of the Montreal club in establishing leisure-time classes for unemployed girls were commended.

Advantages of purchasing a suitable residence and holiday club which would eventually be used as a hostel for retired business women was discussed following a report presented by Miss Mabel Scott of Winnipeg. The hostel committee, of which Miss Scott is chairman, was requested to report on such a project at the next convention.

The convention recommended the colors of green and gold, shown in the federation's emblem seal, be used as the federation colors in future.

Opposed to Girls Wearing Shorts

Oshawa, Ont., July 5.—Over 400 delegates attending the Youth Congress of the Seventh Day Adventist Church here went on record yesterday as being opposed to wearing of shorts by girls and voted against taking part in any war.

The Youth Congress also opposed smoking, drinking, dancing and theatres.

Recent Weddings

WALLACE-OLSON

St. Andrew's Church, Sandwick, was thronged on Tuesday afternoon for the wedding of Florence Christina, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olson, of Headquarters, and Harvey Francis Wallace, son of Mrs. Dorothy Wallace and the late Mr. Wallace of Fernie.

The church was attractively decorated with summer flowers for the ceremony, which was performed at 3 o'clock by the Rev. F. C. Chapman.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was crowned in pale blue lace, with long tight sleeves, and a graceful cape collar. Her hat was of pale blue crepe and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and blue delphiniums.

Mr. Nelson Wallace of Fernie supported his brother.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Elk Hotel, Comox, where Mrs. Olson, mother of the bride, wore an ensemble of blue figured silk dress with navy blue coat and navy hat, while Mrs. Wallace Sr. wore a black hat. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The happy couple left later on a motor tour of the island and mainland points, the bride traveling in a navy and white ensemble with navy hat. On their return they will make their home in the Orchard, Sandwick.

The bride and groom are both well known, the bride having been on the staff of the Tolmie Consolidated School and the groom is a member of the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

DACK-ADAMSON

St. John's Church, Courtenay, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday, July 1, when Mabel Frances, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dack, became the bride of Sidney James, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adamson, of Winnipeg. Rev. F. C. Chapman officiated.

The church was beautifully decorated with summer flowers, by members of the A.Y.F.A. to which the bride also belongs. Mrs. Jack Fraser presided at the organ and during the signing of the register, Mrs. Ben Hughes sang "I Love You Truly." The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was a graceful figure in a frock of white pebble crepe. She wore her mother's wedding veil of white silk net, caught to the head cap fashion with a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of pink rosebuds.

She was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Alice Hurford and Miss Lucy Pike, wearing similarly styled frocks of silk flowered voile, the former in pale green and the latter in pale yellow. White hat, shoes and gloves completed their costumes and they carried shower bouquets of white carnations and pink rosebuds. Brenda Tipping was a dainty flower girl in pale pink crepe de Chine with a quaint poke bonnet to match, carrying pink rosebuds. Mr. W. Tipping supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride and groom left later on a short honeymoon at Comox Lake. They will make their home in Courtenay, where the groom is a member of the staff of Safeway Stores.

ADEY-KNIGHT

At St. Peter's Church, Comox, on June 27, Lorna Elizabeth, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knight of Comox, became the bride of Francis South Adey, only son of Mr. C. H. Adey and the late Mrs. Adey of Sandwick.

Rev. A. W. Corker, assisted by the Rev. Glen Stevenson of Alberni, uncle of the bride, officiated. Mrs. C. W. McIver of Headquarters, presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register Miss Mary Sutton sang "O Promise Me." Flowers were Messrs. Sid Smith and Jas. Pilgrim of Victoria.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin, with embroidered veil of net clasped to the head in a cap made halo fashion.

Miss Edith Adey, sister of the groom, and Miss Margaret Knight, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids, the former in pastel green organdie with white hat and accessories, and the latter in mauve organdie with a pale yellow hat. Both carried Canterbury bells, iris and gladioli in mauve and yellow.

The best man was Mr. George Terria.

The reception at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Carthew, was very largely attended.

The bride and groom left for a short motor trip through the Cariboo, and on their return will reside at Powell River.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Gladys Carthew, aunt of the bride, from Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Pilgrim and children of Victoria.

PARKIN-WINGER

A marriage uniting members of two of the earliest pioneer families of the district was solemnized at St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Sandwick, on July 2, when Martha, youngest daughter of Mr. Louis Winger and the late George Winger, was united in marriage by Rev. A. W. Corker, to Raymond Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parkin.

Given away by her brother, Mr. Thomas Lever, the bride was charmingly dressed in a graceful gown of white lace with a white organdie hat, and carried a bouquet of cream rosebuds. Her maid of honor, Miss Lynn Hilton, wore a beautiful frock of pink lace and carried pink rosebuds and snapdragons. The best man was Mr. Thomas Hilton.

Mrs. J. Tribe presided at the organ and during the signing of the register sang "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden."

The reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. James Muir, Union Bay Road, and was attended by many friends. Flowers were attractively arranged throughout the rooms, the prevailing color motif in pink. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake and floral decorations again carried out the pink motif.

Following the reception the bride and groom left on a motor tour, the bride wearing a frock of brown eyel, with white coat, hat of natural colored straw, and white accessories.

CENTENNIAL Y.P.S.

The Centennial Young People's Society will hold their first social for the summer season at the home of their president, Miss Dorothy Harris, 344 Gorge Road, west, next Tuesday. The members are asked to meet at the church at 7:30.

CLUB AWARDS SCHOOL PRIZES

Women's Canadian Club Home Economics Winners Named

For several years the Women's Canadian Club of Greater Victoria has expressed a definite interest in the development of home economics in the schools. This interest takes the form of a generous contribution in the way of prizes for the best exhibition of clothing for Grade 7 and 8 of the elementary schools of Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt. In Grade 8 the winning class receives a silver tea service, to be used for one year.

In addition, each student, twelve in number, is presented with a sterling silver spoon suitably engraved. The winning Grade 7 class is presented with $10, to be spent in books, and in addition each of the twelve girls is presented with a sterling silver spoon, the same as in Grade 8. With such a reward in view, it is evident that the competition is very keen, resulting in a gradual raising of standards.

The judging for this year has just been completed, the judges being Miss Jessie L. McAnaghen, provincial director of home economics; Mrs. Frank Skillings and Mrs. Norman Cook, both graduates in home economics from Manitoba University, and Mrs. R. H. Johns from Toronto University.

In the opinion of these judges, the standard of achievement on the part of these young girls, ranging in age from twelve to fourteen years, is very outstanding indeed. Decisions were most difficult to make, so much so, that in several instances the awards had to be divided.

The dresses exhibited by the Grade

8 classes were of a sport type and of a variety in style and color which was most interesting. It was evident that the coloring and characteristics of each pupil had been carefully studied so as to achieve the smartest appearance. Nor was the standard of technique sacrificed for appearance. The careful machine-stitching, the seam finishes, the bound buttonholes and the perfect hems, showed attention to minute detail which could hardly be excelled by adults.

THE WINNERS

The honors for Grade 8 were shared by Miss Iris Garnett's class, Sir James Douglas School, and Miss Charlotte Martin's class, George Jay School, with an average of 93 out of a possible 100 marks. Second place was won by Miss Marian Blankenbach's class, Willows School, with an average of 86.75 marks. Grade 7 class, North Ward School, taught by Miss Marjorie Peto, won first place, with an average of 87.5, while Grade 7, George Jay School, taught by Miss Charlotte Martin, was a close second with an average of 84.

In addition to the Canadian Club prize, the winning Grade 7 class retains in its possession for one year a tea tray with silver mountings donated by the Local Council of Women.

In addition to the above prizes, the local stores, David Spencer Limited, Hudson's Bay Company and Dick's, have for many years contributed money toward individual prizes. In making these awards, the decisions were still more difficult, which is evident from the high score awarded each winner.

In Grade 8, Mary Flanagan of Monterey School won first place, with a perfect score—100 marks. The second prize went to Edna Wong, George Jay School, and to Edith Fields, Sir James Douglas School, who tied with a score of 99. The third prize went to Mary McKenchie, Sir James Douglas, and Susie Lim, Girls' Central, who tied with a score of 98, and the fourth prize went to Dorothy Two, Girls' Central, whose score was 97. As well as these winning pupils, there were many others who secured over 90 marks.

In Grade 7 the awards were as follows: First, Flora Gahan, North Ward, 97; second, Bessie Wong, George Jay, 96; third, Frances Doble, Girls' Central, 95; fourth, Audrey Ruffell, Monterey, 94.

For two centuries, the Upas tree of Java was believed to give off poisonous air that would kill any person who went near it. It is now known that only the juice of the tree is poisonous.

Registration List Full For First Week; Vacancies in Second Week

Registrations for the Y.M.C.A. camp at Glin Lake, in the Sooke Hills, have been completely filled for the first week, from July 8 to 15 inclusive, and only twenty more boys can be accommodated during the second week, from July 15 to 22. Viv Shoemaker, boys' work secretary and camp director, reported to-day.

Back in town to make final arrangements here for transportation, supplies and registrations, Mr. Shoemaker reported everything in readiness for the boys who will go out on Monday.

The camp, including staff and boys, will include sixty-three, ten of whom will be in charge of the boys.

Having secured a splendid site and set up a fine cook house and tents, only details remain to be completed. The camp is being pitched in new territory, with a playing field and swimming facilities right at hand. Unless the twenty remaining billets for the second week are taken up before that date, registrations will remain open for the latter camp until July 11.

POSTAL APPOINTMENTS

Saskatoon, July 5 (Canadian Press).—For the good of the postal service in Canada, the time has come when the problem of giving ex-service men preference in employment must be looked at in a different light. J. B. Corley, district superintendent of postal services at Calgary, told the postmasters' convention here yesterday. In several recent appointments, he felt the demand for preference to ex-service men had not given the post office the best man for the job.

Chiffon and Light Silk Summer Ensembles Combine Coolness With Smartness for Women of All Ages

Sheers and chiffons—printed and plain—do a good deal to make the girl who stays in town less envious of those who leave for the country. The first week the thermometer hovers near eighty. They are dark and cool-looking—these costumes that are perfect on the street, for luncheon, tea or dinner—and with white touches and accessories, they give you a chance to look crisp and neat in spite of the heat.

Pleats, tucks, smocking and sections of shirring are more widely used this year than last. There are short-sleeved chiffon street dresses with intricate tucked details on shoulders and necklines, charming sheer and chiffon jacket outfits with dozens of tiny, expensive-looking pleats in their skirts and a fine array of dresses with sweet flaring shoulder caps.

SUMMERY CAPES FLATTER ELBOWS

You'll find summery capes just as flattering as the tweedy models you wear in the fall and spring. Most of the current ones tie about the neck and flutter softly downward to cover your elbows and give your shoulders a graceful air. Mature figures will look a long time to find anything more becoming than a black or navy blue chiffon with pleated cape.

For the very young, there are sweet little jacket frocks with lingerie touches of pique, organdie and stiff linen. Some have strips of organdie facing down the front. Others have schoolgirl collars, cuffs and belts of crisp pique. If you get a dark sheer with white trimming, make sure the white can be removed easily for washing and ironing. Nothing is more annoying than to discover the Navy blue and black are the most popular colors in sheers and chiffons to wear on the street. Beetroot (call it duoboot if you like) is good, so are dark shades of green and lilac. The prints, florals and geometrics are just as smart as the solid tones.

THREE FROCKS FOR SUMMER

An ideal wardrobe for hot days in town might well include one dark chiffon with dainty cape to wear to luncheon and informal parties, one rather casual printed sheer for shopping or office and one sheer with more elaborate details. The three ensembles, sketched here to-day, are adequate.

The printed chiffon (left) with zig-zag motif on a dark red background has white organdie trimming on the jacket and white organdie spaghetti loops at the front of the shirred neckline. The little coat is swaggy type with elbow-length sleeves and shirring across the back. It's shown with white hat, gloves and pumps.

The outfit (centre) of black sheer includes a smart dress with cow neck and huge bow of white pique, posed on the chest, and a flaring jacket with short, cape-like sleeves.

The other ensemble (right) comes in navy-blue chiffon with white floral figurines. The dress has fan pleats in the skirt, surplice neckline and gooseneck belt. The matching cape is pleated and ties about the neck with gooseneck bow.

Held at the Scout Hall, Esquimalt, on Wednesday, the weekly meeting of St. Paul's Troop opened at 7.30 p.m.

with "Flag Break" by Duty Patrol Leader, D. Kennedy. Roll call, inspection, and collection of dues followed.

A softball game, "Duster Hockey" and "B.P. says" were played. Owing to the Seagulls and Woodpeckers Patrols being even on points in the patrol competition, it was necessary to hold a further competitive test, which resulted in the Woodpeckers being declared winners by a very slight margin.

A brief talk was given by Major J. Wise in respect of the annual camp.

Reports were received as to practices held and work performed during the last week.

The meeting closed in formal order with "Flag Down."

Fred Perry Retains His All-England Tennis Championship

THE SPORTS MIRROR

VICTORIA'S ball team has certainly taken the role of "giant-killers" this season in a big way. On two occasions now the local club has stepped out and knocked over a pair of the classiest touring outfits on the continent. And both times the locals deserved to win. Victoria ushered in the baseball season by thumping the invading Tokyo Giants 4 to 0, and Wednesday evening they cut down the classy House of David club 4 to 1. Both results have been outstanding upsets and no doubt have caused quite a little bit of chagrin to other Pacific Northwest nines.

The Japanese hit Victoria with an unexpected record against amateur and semi-pro teams in the Pacific Northwest. Undaunted, the locals played smart baseball behind the brilliant pitching of Joe Bailey, Auburn, Wash., and not only soundly whipped the Nippons but shut them out in the bargain. History repeated itself this week against the be-whiskered gent. From a string of victories against the Vancouver Senior League clubs, the bearded players ran into a stumbling block in the local squad with Carl Friend, Tacoma pitcher, being the big noise, and left town with a defeat tagged onto their record. And it was only their ninth setback in sixty-five games. Congratulations are in order to the Victoria players and especially to Manager "Kim" Campbell, who has worked so hard to keep the locals hustling all the time.

The large crowd Wednesday evening was certainly appreciated by the officials of the Victoria team. It exceeded their fondest hopes and when the local club won, the 1,400 odd spectators left the park more than well-pleased. They would have been satisfied if the Victoria team had not won, considering the brand of ball that was pitched on the two aggressions. When nine innings are run off in an hour and twenty minutes the calibre of ball must be first class. Wednesday's game had everything, fine pitching, snappy fielding and good solid base hits. The good turnout was a fine indication that there are still plenty of baseball supporters in this city and that, providing they are offered a fair brand of ball, they will give their support. And that is what the Victoria club is attempting to do. Improve the brand of baseball.

Although he pitched for only one inning and appeared in the coaching box two or three times the fans gave the veteran Grover Cleveland Alexander a big hand. "Old Alex" appeared to enjoy himself in a big way, exchanging greetings with the spectators. On the mound Alexander just tossed the ball up to the plate and trusted his teammates to make the putouts. He never tried to throw a curve ball. From his actions it could be easily seen that Alexander is through. He has stiffened up and his once great fireball has little of its former speed. He holds his place on the team entirely on his name and reputation and his ability to draw the extra fans through the turnstiles.

"Amby" Ambrose, congenial happy-go-lucky secretary of the House of David club and the business boss of the outfit, was certainly wearing a worried look when the team hit Victoria. And he had good reason to be. On Tuesday night, in Vancouver Ambrose lost his first string pitcher, Eckhart, who left to join the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League. And then to make matters worse Chosen, smooth-working shortstop, received a sweet offer from the San Francisco Missions of the Coast League and will leave the team within a few days to perform with Gabby Street's outfit. As a result Ambrose is out after another pitcher and infielder. It is possible he may get Tommy James, classy Tacoma shortstop, who has been performing with the Victoria club a lot this season, to finish up the season with him. The players have moved around in a big way and play seven days a week with plenty of double-headers scheduled. That is a mighty tough schedule and it is no wonder the whicker boys have an off day once in a while. Following Wednesday's game Manager Campbell said the type of pitching that is being put up and slow curves is what pitches cross them all up.

British Ace Is Far Too Clever For Von Cramm

Smashes Way to Straight Set Victory Over German at Wimbledon 6-2, 6-4, 6-4

Allison-Van Ryn In Doubles Win

Canadian Press
Wimbledon, Eng., July 5.—Fred Perry, dashing British star of the courts, captured the all-England tennis championship for the second successive year to-day, defeating Baron Gottfried von Cramm, Germany, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, in the final round.

Although Von Cramm battled the British ace every inch of the way, he never had a chance against the black-haired champion. At every vital point, Perry had the shots he needed to win and Von Cramm consistently was caught flat-footed by the Briton's smashing drives.

Perry, a heavy favorite from the start, lived up to his reputation as the world's greatest amateur. He dominated the match throughout and never looked like anything but a certain winner.

Gottfried von Cramm, first German to reach the finals since Otto Frothingham was beaten by the great Australian, Norman Brookes, in the 1914 championship round, definitely was outclassed by a player who could make no mistakes to-day.

Perry, first playing through men's champion in Wimbledon history to successfully defend the crown, lost his own service once and appeared able to crack Von Cramm's delivery whenever he wished.

Von Cramm was good enough to make it a spectacular match but he couldn't equal Perry's foxy strategy in the pinches. Once established at the net, Perry was nearly invulnerable. Von Cramm, on the other hand, whenever he attempted to rush to the net, more often than not was passed cleanly down the sideline.

Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn of the United States continued their march through the men's doubles by defeating the crack English pair of G. P. Hughes and C. E. D. Tuckey in a quarter-final match, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Hughes and Tuckey had been named to represent Great Britain in the Davis Cup challenge round.

First completed match of the day saw Adrian Quist, Australia, and Jadwiga Jedrejewska, Poland, defeat Vivian McGrath and Joan Hartigan, Australia, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1, in the quarter-final round of mixed doubles.

Women's Doubles
In women's doubles, Mmes. Rene Mathieu, France, and Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling, Germany, seeded No. 2, gained the semi-finals at the expense of Mmes. Joanne Sigard de Muelemester, Belgium, and Mrs. P. D. Howard, Great Britain, 6-4, 6-8.

Thirty photographers gauged Perry and Von Cramm as they came on the court.

More than 18,000 spectators were jammed into the stands as Perry broke through the German's service in the first game at 4-1 and then held his own to lead, 2-0.

Playing masterful tennis on vital points, Perry held his own second service and then broke through Von Cramm again in the fifth game to lead, 4-1.

Perry quickly ran out the set with the loss of only one more game. He was proving too smart for the German after games rescued deuce, pulling Von Cramm to the net and then passing him easily.

The point score of the first set: Perry..... 4 4 2 9 5 6 5 40-6 Von Cramm..... 1 1 4 7 7 7 3 30-2 CROWD AMAZED

Perry, winning the second game of the second set at love on service, brought gasps of amazement from the crowd by the ease with which in two strokes he worked the German out of position and passed him in exactly the same fashion in three successful rallies. With both holding service, the games went to 2-2.

After games had reached 5-3, Perry rushed to the net and broke the German's service at love. Von Cramm rallied, however, cracked Perry's service, forcing the champion to net three straight hits off his backhand, and drew even at 4-4. Perry then steadied, broke through Von Cramm's service again for 5-4 and then served out the set behind two aces.

The point score of the second set: Perry..... 3 4 5 4 3 4 4 34-6 Von Cramm..... 3 0 5 5 4 4 2 22-4

WOMEN'S DOUBLES

World Record For Pacers Marked Up

Toledo, O., July 5.—A world record for the mile pace by four-year-old fillies was broken yesterday at the grand circuit meeting at Fort Miami track when Calmet Evelyn, owned by McConville Brothers of Ogdensburg, Pa., turned the oval in 2 1/4 in the first heat of the Maumee free-for-all pace, feature event of the program.

Driver Vic Fleming piloted the black mare to the new mark over J. E. Vonlan and of four others and succeeded in taking the event in straight heats. Vonlan finished second in each heat.

FINE MAT SHOW FOR SATURDAY

New Wrestlers Will Perform at Tillicum Gym; Boys Get Tough at Vancouver

To-morrow evening's wrestling card to be presented at the Tillicum gym will feature in the eight ten-minute round main event Joe Parelli, Italy, and Johnny Coyle, a newcomer to the local ring.

In the five eight-minute round semi-windup Bob Miller, rough and ready Chicago grappler, will stack up against Dutch Osborne, Bellingham.

A local bout, will round out the card. The show will start at 8:45 o'clock.

Vancouver, July 5.—Bob Miller, 172-pound body heaver from Chicago, was awarded the deciding fall in the main event of yesterday evening's mat show here against Joe Parelli, husky 168-pound Italian. The show did not, however, end with the referee's decision.

The Italian downed Miller in the second round for the first fall with a body slam but a flying tackle in the next round put the Chicagoan back on even terms. Parelli was repeatedly warned for fouling and when he persisted in the fourth, before Drury called the decision. The grapplers did not stop and went at it with their fists before being parted forcibly.

Hans Steinko, 250, Germany, proved too much for Jack Forsgren, 222, Vancouver, in the semi-final. Steinko had little trouble in downing Forsgren in the third round with an Irish whip which had the local grappler so groggy he conceded the deciding fall in the next round.

Andre Adoree, 204, Montreal, took two straight falls from Indian Jack Smith, 223, Oklahoma, the first in the third round with a body press and another in the next round with a drop kick.

"Dutch" Osborne, 156, Bellingham, and Bill Spaulow, 158, Vancouver, put on an interesting show in the opener and ended up square with one fall each.

SMASH KILLS RACING PILOT

Ward Hobbs Fatally Injured at Atlanta When His Car Plunges Off Track

Atlanta, July 5.—Two of the country's leading dirt-track drivers shared honors here yesterday in an automobile racing programme marred by the death of one pilot whose car crashed through the fence in preliminary time trials.

Ward Hobbs, thirty-three, Jacksonville, Fla., died in a hospital an hour after his machine got out of control and plunged off the track.

The day's feature races were divided between Chet Gardner, Long Beach, Calif., United States dirt-track champion, and Ken Fowler, Paterson, N.J.

Gardner won the ten-mile event in 7 minutes 35.1 seconds. Gardner also broke his own record for the Lakeview track in the time trials, covering the mile in 42.3 seconds. His old mark was 43.7.

Fowler won the twenty-five-mile event in 18 minutes 59 seconds.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Andorra, strange little nation hidden away between Spain and France, is the land of the unwritten law. Jurisprudence to a large extent is based on their own conceptions of fair play—no written laws for legal loopholes. Most litigation is handled by honorary sheriffs who decide cases in their own manner, guided by their own ideas of what is right and just. The Bayles, who are the country's executive officers, act as honorary sheriffs.

The government is run by the Council of twenty-four, who are elected for four-year terms by heads of families in the six departments of the country. Andorra has a constitution which has been amended only rarely since its adoption.

Strange as it seems, Newell Banks played 5,000 blindfold checker games and lost only one—yet he claims that he does not rely upon his memory to aid him in keeping track of the position of the checkers on the board. He can tell you at any time during a blindfold game just where any piece is on the board, but he does it by visualizing the game as it progresses—calculating vision is the term he uses to describe his method.

In his mind's eye he sees the board, and to him it is as real as if he were looking at it. Banks attributes this strange accomplishment to an eye ailment that he had when a child. During that time of partial blindness it was necessary for him to depend on visualization of what was happening in the world about him. Now he can follow a game perfectly with or without the use of his eyes.

TOM FORBES IS DEFEATED

Former Victorian Loses to Cameron in Interior Tennis Championships

Kelowna, July 5.—The score is even now in the intrafamily feud between Jean and Susie Milne, members of the tennis club headed by Ashley Stuart Milne, one-time member of the Canadian Davis Cup team.

Susie, the younger, upset Jean in the B.C. Electric Club final earlier in the season and ever since the "big sister" has been yearning for revenge. She got it yesterday when she triumphed over Susie in an all-Milne, all-Vancouver final for the Interior of British Columbia Championship at the Kelowna Tennis Club.

LOCAL AUTO DRIVERS WIN

Smith, Allen, Logie and Laird Do Well in Races at Silver Lake Track

Victoria automobile racing drivers who took in the holiday meet at the Silver Lake track, located near Seattle, yesterday, did remarkably well. It was learned on their return to the city to-day. Weather and track conditions were very bad for the meet, but it was run off with no serious accidents.

Jack Smith and Ed Allen, driving their locally built "Silver Streak," took third place in the time trials, doing five-eighths of a mile in thirty-three seconds. Jimmy Logie, piloting Phil Foster's "Speedway Special," was fourth in the time trial with a time of thirty-four and one-fifth seconds.

Smith and Allen captured first place against the pick of Washington and Oregon drivers in the opening feature at ten laps. They were also fourth in the five-lap race. Logie came through with a first and third in other races.

Jimmy Laird, with his own racing car, built at Chemainus, was in the money twice and handled his machine well.

JUNIOR BEATS HURDLES MARK

Leroy Kirkpatrick, California Youth, Loses World Record Owing to Wind

Lincoln, Neb., July 5.—Leroy Kirkpatrick, a California prep school youngster, competing for the Olympic Club of San Francisco, scissored over the 150 meter high hurdles in the world record equalling time of 14.3 seconds Wednesday, only to be thwarted of recognition by a stiff wind in the junior track and field championship of the Amateur Athletic Union, in the University of Nebraska stadium here.

Kirkpatrick, a hurdling stylist, won decisively over Forest Towns of the University of Georgia, who had won his trial heat in 14.4 seconds to beat the meet mark of 14.8 seconds set by Al Moreau, Louisiana State University in the 1933 meet at Chicago.

Newell Rushforth, from the University of Utah, representing the Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce, cleared 6 feet, 5 1/2 inches in the high jump, to displace the old junior mark established by Cornell Cooper, Pittsburgh, at Chicago in 1933.

DOUBLE WINNER
Big Chester Cruikshank, Denver A.C., not only came up with a meet record performance of 163 feet 6 inches in the discus throw, but was the only double winner of the day. Before getting around to wreck the discus mark of 148 feet 2 1/2 inches, set up by J. C. Petty, Texas Neighborhood A.C., in 1933, the Denver husky won the hammer throw with a toss of 165 feet 3 1/2 inches.

The Olympic Club ran away with the team title on a point total of forty-nine. The Denver A.C. finished second with seventeen and one-half points, thirteen of them provided by Cruikshank, with the Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce third with sixteen.

Peacock Uncorks Stunning Upset

Babe Ruth Leads Benedicts to Win

New York, July 5.—Babe Ruth returned to baseball—organized—yesterday.

He played with the married men of the Westchester Country Club at Rye against the club's bachelors.

The Babe got a circuit clout in the second inning and in the seventh smacked a two-bagger that brought in the winning run for the Benedicts.

The score was 13 to 12.

Temple University Negro Heads Ralph Metcalfe and Jesse Owens to Tape in A.A.U. 100-metre Event; Scores Another Surprise Win in Broad Jump

Lincoln, Neb., July 5.—Eulace Peacock, Temple University negro sophomore, to-day stood beside Ralph Metcalfe and Jesse Owens in the top flight of United States track and field competition.

Peacock, compact piece of athletic machinery who chased Owens to the tape in the intercollegiate titular contests, who finished fifth in the broad jump in the same meet, yesterday in the United States senior A.A.U. championship flashed to a decisive victory over Owens and Metcalfe in the 100 metre event.

And before incredulous thousands this same Eulace Peacock hurled his body through the air 26 feet 3 inches in the broad jump to equal a slight victory from Owens in an event in which the Ohio State star was considered supreme.

TENNIS PLAY AT HARRISON

Annual Tournament Will Be Staged at Popular Hot Springs This Week-end

From far and wide contestants for the third annual tennis tournament at Harrison Hot Springs will gather this week-end for hard-fought games amidst the beautiful surroundings and modern comforts at this leading British Columbia resort.

The courts, already hard and smooth, are now receiving finishing touches that promise to make them the finest yet. With roses of red, yellow, white and pink to drape the netting and mingle their fragrance, with snowcaps rising beyond the sapphire blue lake, with velvety lawns and gay flower beds as a setting, the tournament will be an occasion long remembered.

As usual all preparations are in the capable hands of E. J. H. Cardinal, who is bringing players from as far south as Los Angeles. A special bus from Seattle direct to the hotel is already fitted to capacity, and bus lines from Vancouver are running extras.

On Saturday night, following the tournament, a grand dance will be held in the hotel's spacious ballroom with special orchestral music and decorations fitting to the occasion. The orchestra will also play for luncheon, tea and dinner.

NEW YORK CLUB WINS

Even the feat of the New York Athletic Club in winning its fourth straight team championship in the face of stern competition from the Olympic Club of San Francisco pale into insignificance beside Peacock's performance.

The New York A.C. scored forty-five points and the Olympic Club thirty-nine.

Peacock's time of 10.3 seconds exceeded the world record. Metcalfe was second, about a foot back, and Owens was in third place here inches behind Metcalfe. A brisk, gusty wind that ranged from seven to eleven miles an hour most of the afternoon probably robbed Peacock of recognition for his record time.

Metcalfe, winner of the two sport races for the last three years, had one more chance and made it pay. Waiting too long at any stage of the race, he galloped through the 200 metres in the new meet record time of twenty-one seconds around one turn. About five feet back came the California rivals, Roy Draper, of Southern California, and Anderson, of the University of California, in a dead heat for second place.

Oxford University and Marylebone Cricket Club played one of the tightest struggles of the present season, Oxford finally winning by five runs.

New York Giants Continue Killing Pace in National League

Double Victory Boosts Margin To Nine Games

Whip Boston 10 to 8 and 12 to 3; St. Louis Cardinals Capture Pair

LEADING YANKS DIVIDE BATTLES

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Going on the time-honored though often disproved theory that teams which have survived the rigors of the first half of the major league season to hold the lead after July 4 are the ones likely to be on top at the finish, New York fans still can look forward to their ideal of a world series on a five cent fare. But Yankees apparently will have quite a battle to bring it about.

Events of the Independence Day doubleheader made Yanks' hold on the American League lead look rather shaky as they had to work their hardest to gain an even break with the fifth-place Boston Red Sox while the marauding Detroit Tigers slammed their way to two more victories over Cleveland.

In contrast to this struggle Giants National League lead stretched out to nine games—the longest so far—as they trimmed Boston Braves twice while St. Louis Cardinals routed Chicago Cubs to climb back into second place and drop Chicago to fourth. Pittsburgh Pirates moved up a notch to third by splitting their bill with Cincinnati.

Giants had a bit of a struggle in the opener when Boston bowled Coghlan over with a five-run fifth inning but they rallied to win 10 to 8 and went on to hammer out a 12 to 3 decision that gave Hal Schumacher his tenth straight mound victory. Hank Leiber helped out with a homer in each game.

After three hits off Charley Root in the twelfth inning gave Cards a 5 to 3 triumph over Chicago they went on to win another close one 6 to 4.

for Dixie Dean, who chalked up his twelfth hurling triumph with the aid of four Cub errors. Pirates belted out sixteen hits to take the opener 9 to 5, but failed to survive Cincinnati's seventh inning attack in the afternoon and Billy Myer smashed a homer with two on to win for the Reds 5 to 4.

Phillies rounded out a big day for Quaker City clubs by taking two hard games from Brooklyn by the home run route. John Moore's fourteenth homer brought a 3 to 2 victory in the opener and two circuit swats by George Watkins and Dolph Camilli's seventeenth figured largely in the second clash, which the Phillies won 8 to 7 on a four-run rally in the tenth.

COAST LEAGUE
A pair of doubleheader firecrackers blasted the San Francisco Missions out of the lead in the Coast League.

and skyrocketed Los Angeles back into its traditional pace-setting spot. In a little fireworks of their own, "Bald Bill" Klepper and E. J. Cheffer, owners of Seattle and Portland respectively, pulled off a mid-game trade that sent Harry Rice into the Duck outfield in exchange for pitcher Ed Bryan.

Bryan hurled the first game for Portland and lost 4 to 3. He came back as a pinch hitter for the Tribe in the second as the Indians lost 3 to 1. Rice got one hit for Seattle in the opener and went hitless four times in the second as he faced his former teammate, Clarence Pickrel.

The Mission hurling staff fell to pieces yesterday as San Francisco pounded out fifty hits to win 17 to 7 and 17 to 3.

Los Angeles climbed to the top by trimming Hollywood 8 to 6 and 13 to 4. Gene Lillard got his twenty-ninth circuit clout.

"Wee Willie" Ludolph hurled Oakland to a 5 to 1 win over Sacramento in the day's fourth curtain raiser. Tom Flynn, Senator left hander, evened the score in the nightcap by hitting the Oaks to six hits as the Solons won 5 to 2.

Heavy Schedule To-day in Victoria Club Meet; Finals To-morrow

Due to the continued downpour yesterday, all games scheduled in the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club championships were postponed until today. The committee in charge of the meet will attempt to run off a double series of games today, in order that the tournament may be completed by Saturday, when the championship play will be brought to a close with the presentation of prizes to the 1935 titleholders.

Semi-finals and quarter finals in a number of divisions will hold the spotlight in today's play. Ross Hocking, winner of the men's singles championship last year, has a heavy day of tennis ahead of him, as he is billed to appear in at least three semi-finals and quarter final matches. W. E. Corfield, veteran of many tournament battles, will oppose Hocking in the men's singles semi-finals, and this match should be one of the best of today's lengthy programme.

Miss M. Philippen, women's singles champion, takes on Miss Peggy Horne in what promises to be a hard-fought contest. Prior to the singles match, Miss Philippen will team up with Miss Featherstone against Mrs. Birley and Miss Jackson, the winners of which will meet the Misses Thwaites and MacDonald, later in the afternoon.

Today's late draw follows:
5.45 P.M.
Mrs. M. Philippen vs. Miss P. Horne.
Miss Featherstone and Hocking vs. Miss J. McDonald and Parker.
Mrs. Goodland and Mrs. Ware vs. Mrs. Mangin and Miss French.

Hockey Rumor Is Squashed

No Truth to Report Halifax Wolverines Might Not Make Berlin Trip

Toronto, July 5.—Halifax Wolverines, 1935 Allan Cup champions and Canadian amateur hockey champions, have already been selected to represent Canada at the Olympic Games next year in Germany. W. A. Hewitt, registrar of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said here yesterday in denying a Montreal report that the Wolverines might have to play a pre-Olympic series with three other teams before earning the overseas trip.

"That story is absolutely wrong," asserted Hewitt, referring to the Montreal report. "The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has selected the Allan Cup winners to represent Canada and, unless the club itself refuses the trip, the Wolverines will go to Germany."

"There certainly is no question of a series between Halifax and any other teams for the right to represent this country."

"I'm afraid someone in Montreal was giving voice to a wish."

Brouillard Hangs Up Decisive Win

THREE GAMES ARE ON CARD

Cricketers Bill Fine Programme Saturday; Fathers and Sons Will Play

Cricketers will have an opportunity to sit in on three first-class matches to-morrow afternoon. Intogs will play hosts to the Five C's at the Mt. Tolmie grounds, while the Albions will oppose the visiting Cowichan club at Beacon Hill Park. Rounding out the three-game programme will be an unusual match at MacDonald Park. This affair will take the form of a friendly match between the Victoria Cricket Club, and a side to be known as the "Fathers and Sons of the Victoria C.C." All games will get under way at 2.15 o'clock.

The novelty match will bring together two twelve-men teams, and it is expected that the father and son combination will more than hold their own against their opponents, as they appear to be strong in both bowling and batting. A young fielding side is always an attraction in any cricket match, and it is expected that there will be quite a turnout of cricket lovers, as the contest is the first of its kind to be staged in Victoria.

This match may be followed by a "Fathers and Sons" game later in the day, as by the large number of youngsters in the club, such a contest could be easily arranged. Test arrangements for to-morrow's match are in the hands of Mrs. R. H. Moffatt.

The team: Fathers and Sons: C. Jones, captain; F. Jones, G. Wilkinson, Wilkinson, G. Austin, F. Austin, R. A. Wilcox, R. Wilcox, J. P. Meredith, J. Meredith, R. H. Moffatt, and R. Moffatt.

Former Middleweight Champion Hands Young Corbett Terrific Beating in Ten-round Bout at San Francisco; Winner Given Seven Rounds

San Francisco, July 5.—Blazing a new trail through the middleweight division in his comeback campaign for the crown he once wore, Lou Brouillard, Worcester, Mass., smashed out a one-sided ten-round victory yesterday over Young Corbett III, Fresno, Calif., before a holiday crowd estimated at 8,000.

Jolting lefts and rights to the body sapped Corbett's strength and he was wearied and a decisively beaten boxer when the bout ended. The decision of Referee Jack Kennedy was only a formality.

Brouillard, who once held the welterweight crown, as did Corbett before both outgrew the class, banged away at his rival's body with pistonlike punches that would have quickly flattened many another fighter. As it was, Corbett's side bore striking evidence of the punishment he had taken. His left side had huge welts on it, and he bled freely from the nose for half of the bout.

The easterner came out of the encounter with a puffed right eye but otherwise was in good condition. WON SEVEN ROUNDS

The Associated Press score sheets gave Brouillard seven of the ten rounds by varying margins. Corbett had the shade in the second and seventh sessions through superior boxing, while the initial round was fairly even.

Beginning with the third round, Brouillard had Corbett on the retreat. The fighters entered the ring on even terms in a betting way. Brouillard had a slight pull in weight, coming in at 157 pounds to 155 for Corbett.

Gate receipts were estimated at slightly over $10,000.

Stocks Forge Ahead On New York Board

TREND LOWER Outside Weakness AT MONTREAL Drives Winnipeg Wheat To Minimum Bond Market Range Narrow

Associated Press
New York, July 5.—The stock market forged ahead to-day under the leadership of steel and a wide assortment of specialties. Gains of one to two or more points ruled among the favorites.

A sharp drop in wheat prices failed to depress the list and other news was generally ignored. The close was firm. Transfers approximated $75,000 shares.

Some of the motors and tobaccos were in demand, but most of the rails and utilities were just about steady. Minnie was not so enthusiastic as imported bar silver at New York was reduced 1/4 of a cent an ounce to 60 cents.

Aside from signing of the Wagner Labor Bill by the President, all was quiet along the Potomac. The slump in wheat to the day's permissible limit of five cents a bushel was attributed to fears that the Canadian government will soon dispose of its huge wheat holdings. Cotton pointed downward along with rubber. Foreign gold currencies were rather weak. Industrial bonds were higher.

Poster-Wheeler preferred shares got up about eleven points on a few transactions. A number of new highs for the year or longer were registered. Air reduction, Western Union, Bethlehem Steel preferred, U.S. Steel preferred and Eastman Kodak climbed around three to four each.

Other notable gains included U.S. Steel and Bethlehem common, National Steel, Jones-Laughlin, Continental Can, American Can, American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Allied Chemical, Chrysler, American Tobacco, B. & O., Liggett and Myers, B. U. Smelting, Westinghouse and Commonwealth and Southern preferred.

MINES QUIET AT TORONTO

Canadian Press

Toronto, July 5.—Toronto mining market lacked buying action to-day as board-rooms were almost empty.

The best, a few cheap issues including Algonquin, Beaver, Paymaster and Stadacona accounted for a big share of the turnover.

Teck Hughes moved between 4.15 and 4.30 and closed practically unchanged. Bralorne closed about 20 cents down.

The main stir in the base metals was in Mining Corporation in which the price was up to 1.50 on good turnover. Sheritt closed a couple of cents off and Falconbridge weakened 5 cents.

Silver shares were slow with Bear 1 1/2 stronger and Eldorado off 5 cents to 1.02.

ACCORDING to statistics, nearly half of the divorces are secured during the first five years of married life. This would seem to put a somewhat sardonic crimp in love's young dream and to indicate that it is not made of the stuff that stands the wear and tear of domestic life.

Considering that the great majority of men and women marry because they feel that existence without each other would be dust and ashes, it is surprising that so many find within so short a time that life with each other is hell. The setting of the honeymoon is too sudden. The disillusionment too quick.

If in the course of years and years of marriage a husband and wife got fed up on each other, it would not be surprising. If the inevitable friction of matrimony wore some of the gilt off the gingerbread, we could understand it. But for two turtles doves to be metamorphosed in the short space of five years into fighting cocks pecking each other's eyes out is a transformation so hideous that it shocks us.

Yet, after all, it is not difficult to see why the first five years of marriage are the most dangerous. They are dangerous for the same reason that all beginners are dangerous. Because those undertaking them are amateurs who lack experience and skill and technique; who are so ignorant that they do not even know what dangers they are due to encounter, much less how to avoid them.

Although boys and girls have observed marriage as a working institution ever since they were born and have seen that it functioned none too smoothly and successfully; although they have watched, in the French sense, as the daily spats of their parents, they are still convinced that their marriages will be entirely different. Their marriages will always be glamorous and they will always be romantically in love with each other. They will always see each other as godings. They will never squabble over bills. All will be peace and beauty.

On this romantic platform they marry, and it gives way under them. And in their youth and inexperience in far too many cases they proceed to wreck the structure instead of trying to patch up the weak places. John doesn't look a romantic hero to Mary any more when she sees him with a stubble of beard on his face. She is amazed to discover that he can be unreasonable about trifles, fussy about his food, selfish and opinionated, and worst of all, critical of her. John is equally disillusioned when he sees Mary with her complexion off and her temper on, and when he finds out that she has queer little ways and a stiletto complex; that she knows nothing about housekeeping, and that she has to watch his step for fear of doing something that will precipitate a riot.

So it doesn't take the average young couple very long to get more or less disillusioned with each other. Then comes the shock of realizing that marriage is bound to be one prolonged sacrifice, preferring another before yourself, subordinating your own tastes and desires to another. Giving up gold so Mary can go to see her mother. Doing without a wife so John may have a thick steak for dinner. Staying at home when you want to step out. Stepping out when you want to stay at home. Working yourself to death for a woman who is peevish because she can't dress like Mrs. Astor. Coking, stewing, baking over the cookstove for a man who never even says "thank you."

Furthermore, the young can't take the punishment of matrimony, that's why so many marriages go quickly on the rocks. After the romance has faded and marriage has got down to a straight everyday living basis, they balance their accounts and decide that it isn't a paying proposition. It doesn't return enough dividends. They don't get enough happiness out of being together to compensate them for giving up their personal liberty, their pay envelopes and their little selfish indulgences. And so they call it a day and quit.

And for proof of this we have only to observe that most young divorced couples remain the best of friends after they have parted.

Another reason why there are so many divorces among the young is that boys and girls do not know how to adjust themselves to each other when they marry, and they quarrel over a thousand things that older people would diplomatically pass over in silence. It takes age and experience to teach us how to live with others and to adapt ourselves to them without friction.

Youth also lacks the philosophy of marriage which enables us to make the best of its good and minimize its bad, and to get a happiness even out of living with a husband who is not our heart's desire. That is what makes so many couples hang up endurance records.

All of which seems to indicate that those who can live through the first five years of marriage have a fair chance of celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

Uncle Wiggily's Lemonade

By HOWARD R. GARIS
In Woodland, where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow, the weather became very hot after the Fourth of July. It was so hot that the little rabbit girl and boys, as well as the other animal children, began complaining about feeling too hot and sometimes wearing no shoes. They were cooler that way.

One day it was so hot that Buster and Duster, two of the rabbit boys, asked their mother if they might make some lemonade and sell it at the little rabbit girls' and boys' school. "But do you think any one will buy it from you?" said Mrs. Longears. "It is so hot that every one who comes along the path will be thirsty."

"And when they see our lemonade with ice in it," said Duster, "they'll want a drink and we'll sell them some lemonade and two-cent glasses and we'll make a lot of money."

"Five-cent glasses," said Buster. "And we'll sell five-cent glasses," said Duster. "I don't believe anybody will be rich enough to buy a five-cent glass," said Duster. "But we can have a five-cent glass all ready in case some rich animal comes along."

"What are you going to do with the money you make from selling lemonade?" asked the rabbit lady. "I'll buy an automobile, maybe," said Duster. "Or an airplane," added his brother. Then they ran away laughing to set up the lemonade stand.

Their mother gave them some lemons and sugar. They got their own water and ice. Buster gave them a pitcher and some glasses. In a short time Buster and Duster had their lemonade stand in the woods ready for business. There was a big pitcher of the cool drink and there were the empty glasses ready to be filled. There were small glasses for a penny, larger glasses for two cents and an extra large glass to be sold for five cents.

Buster and Duster sat on boxes behind the lemonade stand (which was also a larger box) and they waited for customers. But none came. No thirsty animals passed along the path to buy lemonade. "I guess we aren't going to make much money," said Buster. "I guess so," said Duster. Sadly the rabbit boys waited. No one came to buy their lemonade. Then Duster said, "Let's go off in the woods and look for some berries to eat. There's no fun keeping a lemonade stand if nobody comes to buy."

"Some customers might come while we are looking for berries," objected Buster. "They'd drink the lemonade without paying," said Duster. "Well, here comes daddy," said Duster. "We'll ask him to 'lend our lemonade stand while we go after berries. Will you, daddy?" he asked. "Why, yes, of course," said Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose. "I'll watch the lemonade stand for you. Hop along!" Buster and Duster hopped away to look for berries. No sooner had they gone than along came Mr. Twinkle, the fat pig gentleman, and Mr. Stubble, the bear gentleman, and Mr. New Wow, the dog gentleman. "Have some lemonade!" invited Duster Wiggily, and they all did. They drank up all there was. They drank five-cent glasses, two-cent glasses and penny glasses, and when
